WITH THE PRESIDENT

A Large and Enthusiastic Crowd Welcomed Him to Asheville Monday.

NIGHT SPENT AT HOT SPRINGS

He Addressed a Crowd of 10,000 People in the Court House Square at Asheville.

ON THE WAY BACK TO WASHINGTON

ASHEVILLE, N. C., September 10.—Asheville extended a welcome greeting to President Roosevelt Monday, fully 10,000 people occupied Court House square, where the president addressed them from an improvised stand. The special train arrived there at 9.20 o'clock. The night was passed at Hot Springs and the run from there to Asheville Tuesday morning was uneventful. A short stop was made at Marshall, the home of Senator Pritchard, where a large number of people had assembled. The president thanked them for their greeting.

At Asheville he was met by a reception committee of which Charles McMann was chairman, Mayor Milton, Senator Pritchard and Congressman Moody were among those who greeted the president, the members of the committee being introduced to the president in his car by Senator Pritchard. Carriages were in waiting and under the escort of Zeb Vance company, Confederate Veterans, carrying their battle flags, and two companies of the state militia and the First regiment band, the party started for court house square, At battery park the school children were assembled on the lawn and sang "America." As the party passed President Roosevelt stood in his carriage bare-headed. The city was elaborately decorated and hundreds of people had come in from the country to greet the president.

SALISBURY, N. C., September 10.-President Roosevelt arrived at 5.30 o'clock this evening on the way to Washington and was welcomed by a large crowd. The run from Asheville through the mountains, was greatly enjoyed by the president, who praised the scenery and the engineering skill displayed in building the road. A short stop was made at Old Fort, and here the president found a large number of country people waiting to greet him. He said :

"I have time only to say a word of thanks and of greeting to you. It has been a great pleasure to come through North Carolina and to meet your people. I consider myself lucky in having gotten here. A good American is a good American anywhere you find him. You do not find any better than in North Carolina. There is no royal road to good citizenship. The qualities that made a man a good citizen a hundred years ago will make him a good citizen a hundred years hence."

At Connelly Springs the president also made a short address, thanking the people for their greeting.

The president was heartily cheered as the train pulled away. At Statesville, where several hundred people had assembled, the president was introduced by Congressman Blackburn, who also accompanied him from Asheville. He addressed the crowd for a few minutes and then a picture was taken of the president and his party grouped on the rear platform of his car.

Greensboro, N. C., September 10.—The president was accorded a very enthusiastic reception here last night. Fully 6,000 people were at the station when the train arrived and they cheered the president when he appeared on the platform of his car. Senator Pritchard and Congressman Blackburn left the train here.

The Bellefonte Academy.

The Academy doors were thrown open Wednesday morning. The corps of teachers were in their places and the "young ideas" wended their way up the Academy hill, just sort of dying to resume their studies.

This popular school opens its fall term under the most auspicious circumstances. A larger number of students than ever being in attendance, and every department having an instructor in charge.

Bellefonte is to be congratulated upon having such an educational institution in our midst, where young men can be fitted to enter any college in the land, and in this respect it has the advantage of almost every Academy in the country, for in this school the examination by the principal and his certificate is all that is required by such Colleges as Princeton and Yale.

Prof. James R. Hughes is the right man in the right place, and is a thorough principal in every respect.

ROBERT H. CROSTHWAITE.

A Former Citizen of Bellefonte Expires at His Home in Altoona.

Robert H. Crosthwaite, an aged and respected citizen of Altoona, died Saturday afternoon at1:3 0o'clock at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. Charles H. Schroyer. Death was due to dropsy. He had been ailing for some time and death ended his suffering on the 79th anniversary of his birth:

Deceased was born at Potters Mills, Centre county, September 6, 1823. He was educated in his native town and learned the trade of a harness maker. For many years he resided in Bellefonte following his occupation. He also taught school for several terms during the antebellum days. Seven years ago he retired and went to Altoona where he has since resided with his daughter. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church for a half century and was generally esteemed by all who knew him.

During the civil war he served for a short time in the emergency corp recruited by Governor Curtin.

Mr. Crosthwaite's wife preceded him to the grave twelve years ago, and he is survived by two sons, Frank A., of State College; and Walter H., of Brooklyn, and one daughter, Mrs. Emma R. Schroyer, of Altoona. He is also survived by one brother, Hiram Crosthwaite who resides with his son, Dr. D. W. Crosthwaite at Altoona.

Funeral services were conducted at his late home in Altoona Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. Horace Lincoln Jacobs. The remains were brought to Bellefonte Monday morning and interred in the Union cemetery. The pall-bearers were John I. Olewine, G. W. Rees, H. H. Harshberger and C. O. Shuey.

The Masked Euchre.

The youth and beauty of Bellefonte together with a fair proportion of the elderly society folks gathered at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Reeder, Tuesday night, the occasion being a masked euchre. As this was an inovation in evening entertainments, it caused great interest and curiosity. About seventy-five persons were present, and with the exception of three or four, were all masked. Some of the costumes being superb, others ridiculous. We have only learned the characters assumed by a few present, but all agree that Mrs. W. L. Daggett, as a Turkish lady, excelled. Mrs. Larimer attracted great attention as "Daisy." Miss Mary Hoy appeared as a Red Cross Nurse. Mrs. Hastings and Mrs. Hickok appeared as Sisters of Charity. Mrs. Mollie Valentine and Mrs. Harry Fenlon represented the Press, being gowned in copies of the Democratic Watchman. Adeline Harris took the part of little School girl, to perfection. Mrs. C. F. Montgomery and Mrs. Lingle played the role of flower girl. Mrs. Borches wore the costume of a Spanish Lady. Mrs. James Lane was Old Mother Goose. Miss Mary Thomas took the part of Little Red Riding Hood, while Mrs. John Lane wore the sombre garb of a Nun. Miss Rebekah Blanchard was a girl of the last century. "Pete" Meek as a little boy certainly deserves special mention. George has the happy faculty of carrying out his part to perfection. Henry Linn, our mild mannered friend masqueraded as a tiger. Mr. L. T. Munson was either a clown or wolf, or both, or neither. At all events he was a success. We would like to enumerate and describe all the costumes worn, but space will not permit.

At the hour appointed, the game of euchre began, there bring twelve tables and six players at each table. When it was over John Curtin was awarded the first gentleman's prize and Miss Ellen Roder of Baltimore received the first lady's prize. The second prizes were awarded to Mrs. Bush and Mr. Henry Linn. After the result of the game had been announced, elaborate refreshments were served, and the guests, after an evening of thorough enjoyment, repaired to their homes.

Trying to Intimidate the Editor.

We are informed that owing to certain articles which have appeared in our paper that one of the members of the Town Council intends to do us bodily harm the first time we happen to meet.

This places us in a very trying position, as there are nine members of that honorable body and it keeps us engaged watching them and keeping at a safe distance. If we knew who the gentleman (?) is who proposes to annihilate us we would only have to keep out of his way, thereby saving us much trouble.

We beg to say, however, that threats of this character do not intimidate us in the least, and in the future, as in the past, we will endeavor to point out the shortcomings of our public servants.

Fottunately we live in Pennsylvania, and not in Kentucky, and are not subject to shot gun rule, and we are also a free born American citizen ; and as such, hope to enjoy the rights and privileges of same

WITH THE STRIKERS

Bloody Fight Between Striking Miners at Maltby Sunday Morning

ONE DEAD AND ANOTHER HURT

Strikers Mistook Two of Their Own Number For Non-unionists and Fired on Them.

EXCITEMENT AT EDWARDSVILLE

WILKESBARRE, September 9.—A fight occurred between striking miners at Maltby yesterday morning which resulted in the death ot one man and the fatal injuring of another. The victims were Italians. The name of the man killed was Sistieno Van Castelli, aged 36 years. His companion, Frank Portay, was stabbed several times and he is not expected to live. He is now in the Wilkesbarre hospital.

All Sunday night strikers gathered in the vicinity of the Maltby mine of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, at Maltby, and the Harry E. colliery, at Forty Fort. It was rumored that both of these mines were to start yesterday with a full force of men and the strikers had pickets out on all roads leading to the mines to intercept any men who might be on their way to work. A heavy fog prevailed and it was difficult to see the people in the roadway. Shortly after 7 o'clock a number of strikers on guard at the Maltby colliery saw two men aparoaching. They carried guns. The pickets came to the conclusion at once that they were non-union men going to work armed. The strangers were held up. The strikers crowded around them. One striker in the crowd who could understand the language stated one of the men spoke in Italian and said he and his companion were starting out on a hunting trip and that they were union miners. But the other strikers did not know what he said, and still thinking that the foreigners were non-union men on their way to work at the colliery, attempted to take the gun away from Van Castelli. He resisted. A fight then ensued and soon the two Italians were lying in a pool of blood in the roadway. Van Castelli was shot in the side and the left side of his face was crushed in. His companion, Portay, was stabbed in the side several times.

A number of coal and iron policemen were on the scene a few minutes after the discharge of the gun was heard. Van Castelli was dead and Portay was unconscious. The dead man was taken to his boarding house nearby and his companion was brought to the hospital in this city. In one of the pockets of Van Castelli's coat was found a union miners' card

The news of the riot brought a large number of deputy sheriffs to the scene and upon their arrival the mob dispersed. No arrests have yet been made.

A crowd of 2,000 men and boys surrounded the town hall of the borough of Edwardsville Sunday morning. Hiram Fisher was confined in the lockup there. Fisher, who is charged with shooting a Polish woman, fired into a number of strikers who held him up, and the bullets went wild and struck the woman, who was seated on the stoop of her house. After being terribly beaten by the mob Fisher was finally lodged in the town lockup.

A mob surrounded the place all night, threatening to demolish the lock up. Fisher suffered much from his injuries and Burgess Dando was afraid to give the man a hearing as the crowd on the outside threatened to lynch him if they laid their hands on him. At noon, under strong guard, Fisher was removed to an ambulance and driven to this city, where his injuries were dressed at the hospital. Some of the foreigners attempted to hold up the ambulance, but were driven off by the special officers. Burgess Dando breathed a sigh of relief when he got the man out of his bailiwick.

Sheriff Jacobs was much exercised over the riots and bloodshed in the county and at one time it was thought he would have to call upon the militia for aid. Some citizens urged him to do so without delay. But Monday afternoon order was pretty well restored in the Wyoming region and if there are no further outbreaks the sheriff will not ask the governor for troops.

—Hon. Robt. E. Pattison and some of the prominent Democratic Politicians will be at Grange Picnic next Thursday. Arrangements are being made to give them a great reception.

—A progressive euchre party will be given in St. John's Hall by the ladies of the Catholic church this evening. The tickets are twenty-five cents. This is the first of a series of euchre parties to be given during the coming winter.

The Honeymoon.

SHE

"I don't think anybody dreams
That I'm a bride.
You mustn't try to hold my hand;
Be dignified!
And try to look at ease and calm—
The way I do—
As if our going off alone
Were nothing new,
And when I ask you things, just growl:
'Oh, I don't know!'
Why does that horrid man back there
Grin at me so?
Could he have guessed? Or does he just Think I look nice?"

HE.

"Of course he does; but, dear, your hat
Is white with rice?"

REPUBLICAN DAY.

Tuesday, September 16, will be a Great Occasion at the Granger's Picnic.

Tuesday, September 16, promises to be a great day at the Granger's Picnic at Centre Hall, for on this occasion some of the most prominent Republican leaders of the state will be present. It will be a splendid opportunity for the people of Centre county to meet the leaders and hear discussed the issues of the campaign from the Republican point of view. The following telegram explains itself :

REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

HON. LEONARD RHONE,
CENTRE HALL, PA.

Senator Bois Penrose, Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, Hon. Chas. Emory Smith and Gen. Thomas Stewart will positively be at the Granger's picnic at Centre Hall, on Tuesday, September 16.

W. S. ANDREWS,
Secretary Republican State Committee.

A Geat Snake Story.

The greatest snake story we have heard this season has been sent from Sugar Valley to the Philadelphia Record. After giving a description of the beautiful valley being overrun by the reptiles, the correspondent says : "Dogs and cows died of rattlesnake bites; copperheads were found in springhouses, where they fed out of the family milk pans ; blacksnakes were plentiful among the stone piles in the fence corners, where they preyed upon the flocks of young turkeys, or glutted themselves on quail; the venomous, flat-headed blowing viper was found in henhouses robbing nests, and the meadow or milk snake in three instances was found fast to the udder of a milch cow, partaking of an unbidden feast. Snake killing parties were organized, and as a result many of the reptiles were captured, killed and their carcasses burned. One family, named Miller, in which there are five half grown boys, has as trophies of this summer's onslaught on snakes almost 60 sets of rattles and as many skins. The latter, if in good condition, find ready sale at from 25 to 50 cents apiece.

George Strobert, a berry picker, kept actual account of the number of snakes he killed while berrying, and his record is remarkable. He killed this season 118 rattlers, six of which had each 21 rattles. These were monsters, of the yellow species, as thick as a man's arm above the elbow. He dispatched 22 blacksnakes and nine copperheads. He also turned his attention to woodchucks, commonly known as groundhogs, and in five weeks of berrying he and his dog, together captured seven.

The Ballad of "Mary Jane." Repeated

The beautiful shadow play of "Mary Jane" was given Monday night at the residence of the Misses Benner on High Street at the earnest request of many who did not have the privilege of being present the first time it was rendered.

The performers being the same as took part previously, viz : Misses. Mary Cole Emeline Cooper, Margaret Burnet and Julia Curtin, the Ballad being read by Katherine Burnet. Fully fifty persons were present, who were highly entertained. It is hoped the management will be prevailed upon to repeat it during the coming winter, and those who have failed to witness it, should not fail to do so when the opportunity offers. The proceeds will be applied to St. John's Parish House.

Festivities over the Christening of a Child.

On Sunday morning the two weeks old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Torsell was christened by Father McArdle in the Catholic church on Bishop street, and as it is the custom of their nationality, later all their friends gathered at the little ones home near the Glass Works to pay their kindest regards. Choicest of refreshments were served and it is estimated that two hundred guest visited the home during the day. The little baby was named Pasquale Torsell.

THE MINERS' STRIKE

Struggle Between Men and Operators Enters Its Eighteenth Week Sunday.

BOTH SIDES ARE STILL FIRM

Officials of the Miners Claim That the Fight Can Be Maintained for Months Yet.

OPERATORS TAKE ANOTHER VIEW

PHILADELPHIA, September 8.—The anthracite mine workers' strike enters upon its eighteenth week today, with the lines between the operator and miner drawn almost as tightly as when the suspension was inaugurated on May 12. There were many predictions that the contest would be over by the first week in September, but if the officials of the mine workers' union are to be believed, the struggle will continue for months, unless the coal companies grant concessions. Some of the operators looked for a serious break in the ranks of the men weeks ago and admit they are surprised at the way the strikers are holding out. Rumors are current and, in fact, statements have been made by prominent men both in and out of the coal trade that the strike will be ended this month. President Mitchell, of the union, maintains he knows nothing of a possible early ending of the trouble, and says he knows nothing of any negotiations looking to that end. The only move now in contemplation is the suggestion that Governor Stone call an extra session of the legislature for the purpose of passing a law that would have the effect of amicably and speedily ending the deadlock. Governor Stone has given the matter considerable thought and has announced that if a bill can be framed that will have the desired effect he will immediately convene the legislature.

Last week more coal left the mining region than in any previous week since the strike began. Statements have been made by the mining officials that the shipments for the last six working days aggregate 100,000 tons. The normal weekly output is a little more than 1,000,000 tons. The strikers and their officials dispute the claims of the mining superintendents and maintain that most of the coal now going to market is "washed" from the great culm piles, and the remainder is the coal that had been blasted before the strike began, or which fell through the breaking of a rotten timbering during the idleness. All the fuel that is leaving the coal fields is not reaching the markets. A considerable quantity is being taken by the railroads for their own use.

Our Coming Fair.

The Fair Association is making extensive arrangements for their annual fair to be held for four days, commencing Sept. 30th.

We hope the citizens of Centre county and especially the farmers, will unite in making this a great success. The premium list will be out in a short time, in which will be found inducements for a large exhibition of cattle, grain, fruit and everything produced on the farm, besides fancy work of all description and everything of a miscellaneous character, which can be exhibited.

No labor is being spared to bring attractions that will interest everyone, and it will be the people's own fault if Centre county, this year, does not have the finest agricultural fair in Central Pennsylvania.

—The Salvation Army officers have rented the house on Thomas Street, lately occupied by Mr. Joseph Kelleher, and are moving their household goods this week.

—The Daniel Garman property at Axe Mann and occupied by Chas. Cruse is undergoing great improvements and will soon be the most beautiful residence ten within miles of Bellefonte.

—Another scheme, similar to the Van Kirk & Robbins plan, is being worked. Many of our people have received circular letters asking them to assist in the movement. All who receive such circulars should think twice before they act.

—"The Power of the Cross" the opening attraction of the threatrical season in Bellefonte occupied the boards at Garman's Opera house Wednesday night.

—Some men or boys broke into the Grain Elevator of E. K. Rhoads Tuesday night and stole a double bitt axe, saw, hammer and other tools, they effected an entrance by drawing a staple in the door afterwards replacing it.

SHORT AND PITHY.

Hon. Alexander E. Patton, our candidate for Senator, is a man of a pure personal character.

The Democratic party did not get much consolation from the Union convention at Philadelphia.

Robert "Everytime" Pattison expects to be at the Grange Picnic next week, and will explain to the Penns Valley farmer why he is hankering for a third term.

Candidate Strohm appears to be nightmare to the Centre Democrat. We do not wonder at this, as he will receive a rousing vote on Brother Kurtz's side of the mountain.

The Union convention at Philadelphia was just a little the liveliest entertainment we have attended for some time. The democratic contingent was not able to stand the pressure.

The Centre Hall Reporter is losing considerable sleep in trying to stir up sentiment against Supt. Gramley. Its charges are all bosh and will not change the good opinion the people have of that faithful officer.

Since the narrow escape of President Roosevelt from being killed by a trolley car last week, we would advise Teddy to be a little more careful in the future. His life is of too much importance to be spared at present.

Hon. S. R. Dresser and Hon. A. E. Patton will be visitors at the Grange Picnic at Centre Hall next Tuesday. We want as many Republicans as possible to become acquainted with them, and those who do will be proud of their candidates.

Remember that Tuesday, the 16th, is Republican Day at the Grange Picnic at Centre Hall. Let there be a great demonstration at that time. Hon. S. W. Pennypacker, our candidate for Governor, will be there to meet the citizens of Centre county.

Of course it will make no difference, but it may be well to remember that Abe Miller and H. H. Hewitt were soldiers in the Civil war. They certainly should lose no votes on this score: many people even now feel grateful to the old soldier for services rendered.

Robert "Everytime" Pattison has been on exhibition so often as a candidate, that this year he will not prove a drawing card at the Grange Picnic. The race course will be the attraction, for there one will see faster running than can be done by old "folorn hope."

Hon. P. Gray Meek will no doubt give an account of the Union convention held in Philadelphia last week. It will hardly be impartial, as he was in the city at that time working in the interests of the Democratic Annex, which tried to indorse Pattison but did not succeed.

A. J. Griest, one of the best Commissioners Centre county ever had, was defeated simply because he was a candidate for a third term; and now the Democrats are shouting themselves hoarse over Robert "Everytime" Pattison, who is trying for a third time to get his old $10,000 berth again.

Hon. S. R. Dresser, the Republican candidate for Congress, is largely engaged in the manufacturing business and employs a great many men. How many men does Mr. Hibner give employment to? Has he ever done anything for the community in which he lives? If he has, no one ever heard of it.

Henry Lowry, the carpenter candidate for Sheriff, is kept so busy at his trade that it is almost impossible to find time to make a thorough canvass of the county, but all the same Henry will get the votes, as there is something about a capable, honest and industrious mechanic that commands the respect of everyone.

Editor Harter, in the last Gazette, said some ugly things about Sheriff Brungart in connection with the Beck-with murder trial. We know nothing about the facts in the case, but from our acquaintance with the Sheriff, extending back many years, we have found him to be a kind hearted gentleman, and are inclined to think that Brother Harter has been misinformed.

The Democrats of the South are giving a royal welcome to President Roosevelt as he passes through their country. This is right and shows the proper spirit towards the Chief Magistrate, but will they vote for him when he becomes a candidate? Well, hardly; they are not given to voting for Republicans down there though they like to enjoy the prosperity a Republican Administration brings them. Then why should the Republicans of Pennsylvania vote for Pattison?

THE WHISTLE WAS SILENT.

Why His New Set of Teeth Didn't Help the Blower.

A small town in Posen, near the Silesian frontier, still keeps that relic of other centuries, the night watchman who calls the hours. One night—the London Telegraph tells this remarkable story—one of these watchmen, an old worthy long in service, failed to blow his whistle when the clock struck the hour.

The burgomaster summoned the delinquent to account for his negligence. After some hesitation he declared that his last tooth had dropped out and that he could not hold in his mouth the official flat tin whistle.

A council was called, and the subject was gravely discussed. Finally one of the members said that he had heard of a dentist at Breslau who supplied artificial teeth. After long debate the council appropriated money to send the aged watchman to Breslau to get a set of new teeth.

In due time the watchman reported that his teeth had arrived. That night the burgomaster sat up to hear the result. To his astonishment there was no whistle at 10, at 11 or at midnight. The next morning he summoned the watchman.

"You have got your teeth," he said indignantly. "Why do you not whistle as before?"

"Yes, I've got a new set of teeth," replied the old man, "but the doctor told me to put them in water at night."

An Old Welsh Custom.

The kindling of bonfires on hills is the simplest of celebrations at any time. The Druids made four great fires at their festivals in February, May, August and November. Wales seems to have been a country especially tenacious of this custom. Each family used to make its own fire, and as it was dying out each member would throw a white stone into it, the stones being marked for future identification. Then all said their prayers and went to bed, and in the morning they tried to find all the stones again. If any stone was missing, it betokened that the owner of it would die within a year.

Some superstitions are pretty and picturesque and attractive; this was one of the many which were cruel as well as picturesque. It would take but a slight accident to cause a fright that might be actually dangerous to a superstitious person, and it would not be hard for an enemy of such a person to cause that fright by stealing his stone from the fire.

London's Sewer Hunters.

The London sewer hunter before commencing operations provides himself with a bullseye lantern, a canvas apron and a pole some seven or eight feet in length, having an iron attachment at one end somewhat in the shape of a hoe. For greater convenience the lantern is invariably fixed to the right shoulder, so that when walking the light is thrown ahead and when stooping its rays shine directly to their feet. Thus accoutered they walk slowly along through the mud, feeling with their naked feet for anything unusual, at the same time raking the accumulation from the walls and picking from the crevices any article they see.

Nothing is allowed to escape them, no matter what its value, provided it is not valueless. Old iron, pieces of rope, bones, current coin of the realm and articles of plate and jewelry—all is good fish which comes to the hunter's net.—Chambers' Journal.

The Chinese Way.

In its war with England and France in 1859-60 China was easily conquered and forced to a humiliating peace. The Peking Gazette, the official organ of the government, however, reported the following concerning that treaty of peace:

"As the western barbarians have admitted their wrongs and humbly solicited for peace, the emperor in his infinite goodness has granted their prayer and, moreover, has made them a present of a large sum of money (indemnity of war) to enable them to begin an honest life, so that they may not again be driven to murder and rapine."

A Way of Explaining It.

Wife—Why, John, just see what a stupid blunder the newspaper has made in its account of our silver wedding! Don't you remember I wrote it out for the reporter that we had spent together twenty-five years of married happiness, and the stupid typesetter has gone and made it twenty-five years of marred happiness. Isn't it awful?

Husband—Oh, well, dear; don't be too hard on the poor fellow. Perhaps he's been married twenty-five years himself.—London Tit-Bits.

Precaution.

"Do you think you can give my daughter the surroundings to which she is accustomed?" asked the parent.

"Well," answered the young man, "I won't guarantee that. You see, Claribel has talked the matter over and says she's tired of the neighborhood."—Washington Star.

About Waiting.

The old proverb that all things come to him who waits advances a very pretty and pleasant theory, but its literal interpretation makes it capable of great misconstruction, for if it is in one sense true its reverse is equally true. Nothing comes to him who waits. Nothing comes to him who waits and does no more. There is nothing in the world that is of any value that has not to be struggled for, and those who sit down and fold their hands, expecting fate and fortune to bring them what they most desire, will meet with the disappointment they deserve.

THROWING THE LASSO.

The Manner In Which the Rope Is Handled by an Expert.

"A mistaken impression prevails in the mind of the public in regard to the manner in which a lasso is handled," says an expert. "The idea that the loop is always swung around the head before making a cast, especially when the roper is on foot, is erroneous. No man of experience ever makes a cast in this fashion from the ground in practical work. There are several reasons why he does not. One of them is that the movement is likely to frighten the stock, especially horses; another that he may have to wait some minutes before a favorable opportunity occurs for making a cast. He knows that better results are obtained by holding the rope as unobtrusively as possible, even keeping it concealed from the object of capture.

"On the contrary, however, when mounted and in pursuit it is absolutely necessary to swing the loop over and around the head, for the cast must be made with the greatest possible force in order to overcome not only the forward movement of the pursued, but also the action of the wind should that chance to be against you.

"As to the manner of casting, some 'ropers' cast with a quick, jerky movement of the hand, seeming to use the arm very little and the body not at all. Others employ body, arm and hand. Both methods are effective when perfected by practice."

Board With the Butler.

To avoid the trouble of housekeeping, many wealthy Parisians board with their butler, so to speak. Instead of ordering the food for the household from day to day, they pay a fixed sum per month to their butler or housekeeper, who contracts to supply them with the usual three meals per day, composed of the customary courses, says What to Eat. The price paid for this service varies in accordance with the style of living. If guests be invited to dinner or any sort of entertainment be given, an extra sum per head is paid. In this way the lady of the house avoids the annoyance of butchers' and bakers' bills, and if the butler does not keep his part of the contract it is easy enough to find another to replace him. Of course, the president's household is carried out on this plan on a large scale, and many of the big stores supply all their employees with daily meals in the same manner. The banks and other administrations of similar nature often furnish the noonday meal to their clerks by contract, the latter paying a trifling sum toward the cost.

The Manufacture of Pins.

In 1775 a prize was given to the colonist of Carolina who produced the first native pins and needles. During the war of 1812, when, owing to restrictions upon commerce, the price of pins rose to the enormous sum of $1 per paper, the manufacture was actually started in the United States, but does not seem to have met with success, as the enterprise was soon abandoned. The industry was not fairly started in this country until the year 1836.

The early pins in this country, as in England, were made with globular heads of fine twisted wire, made separately, and secured to the shank by compression from a falling block and die. These old pins had the misfortune of often parting with their heads. It was to overcome this difficulty that the attention of early inventors was directed. The solid headed pin, in common use today, took the place of the old form about 1840.

Couldn't "Kid" Him.

"Have you known what it is to be an orphan?" asks one of the characters in the "Pirates of Penzance," and another replies, "Often." The similarity between the two words causes almost a page of good Gilbertian fun. It would have been otherwise if either of the characters had happened to be an average London boy.

The tale is told of a London boy on his country holiday who was asked by a carter to hold one of his horses. "Which 'orse?' asked the lad. "The off 'un," said the driver. "Horphan," said the boy. "How d'ye think Hi knows which of 'em's a horphan? Garn, you don't kid me." And that closed the incident.—London News.

Out of Proportion.

Benham—I try to believe the Bible, but I find that story of the ten virgins, five of whom were wise and five foolish, a little perplexing.

Mrs. Benham—What's the matter with that?

Benham—Judging from the women I have known, the proportion of foolish ones was altogether too small.—New York Times.

As If It Were Possible.

Claribel—I wonder what that creature meant?

Laurie—What creature?

Claribel—Why, Tentworth, of course. When I told him everybody said I was improving in my singing, he said he was delighted to hear it. The idea!—Stray Stories.

A Political Pointer.

Hilton—They say politics makes strange bedfellows.

Weller—Yes; but it doesn't matter if you get a good berth.—Boston Transcript.

Fish are sold alive in Japan, the peddlers conveying them through the streets in tanks.

BUTTER AS A MEDICINE.

It Is Good For Consumptives and For Thin, Weak People.

Butter is so common a commodity that people use it and scarcely ever think what wonderful value lies at their hand in the pats of dainty yellow cream fat. Of course they know that it is useful in many branches of cookery and that without its aid the table would be bare of its thinly rolled bread and butter, its delicate cakelets and its other usual accessories. Beyond these uses the value of butter is a thing only vaguely thought of.

But this delicate fat is as valuable as the dearer cod liver oil for weakly, thin people, and doctors have frequently recommended the eating of many thin slices of bread thickly spread with butter as a means of pleasantly taking into the bodily tissues one of the purest forms of fat it is possible to get.

Butter is a carbon, and all excess of it is stored up as fat in the body. It gives energy and power to work to those who eat heartily of it. So it is not economy at table to spare the butter, even to the healthy folk. For any one afflicted with consumption butter cookery, if plenty of fat can be digested, is one of the best ways of curing the disease if it is in its early stages or of keeping it at bay if advanced.

Butter is not a simple fat, composed of merely one sort. It is a mixture of no less than seven different sorts of fats, and no more complex oil can be taken than this is.

How a Diamond Cuts Glass.

It has been ascertained by a series of experiments that a diamond does not cut out the glass, file fashion, but forces the particles apart, so that a continuous crack is formed along the line of the intended cut. The crack once begun, very small force is necessary to carry it through the glass, and thus the piece is easily broken off. The superficial crack or cut need not be deep. A depth, according to fine measurements, of a two-hundredth part of one inch is quite sufficient to accomplish the purpose, so that the application of much force in using the diamond only wears out the gem without doing the work any better.

Numerous stones, such as quartz and other minerals, when ground into proper form, will cut glass like a diamond, but are not so valuable for that purpose, lacking the requisite hardness and soon losing the sharp edge necessary to make the operation a success.

An Odd Use For the Pin.

An odd use that the pin was put to long ago was that of checking the intemperate habits of the English. St. Dunstan conceived the idea of dividing the tankards out of which the liquor was drunk into eight equal parts, each part marked with a silver pin. The cups were generous affairs, holding two quarts. Consequently the quantity from pin to pin was half a pint, and the regulation was that the drinker "stop at a pin."

Roisterers, however, prevented the purpose of good St. Dunstan and established the rule of "good fellowship," by which the drinker was to stop only at a pin. If he drank beyond, he had to go on to the next mark. As it was difficult to stop exactly at a pin the vain efforts always excited much mirth, and the trial usually ended with the draining of the tankard.

Bill Nye's Criticism.

It was in Frisco when Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, was a feature in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Bill Nye was to have lectured at the Baldwin theater, but was greeted by so small an audience that he excused himself and went over to hear Jackson talking of the pearly gates to Little Eva. After the performance L. R. Stockwell, the veteran actor, met Nye in the lobby of the theater, and he exclaimed:

"Hello, Nye! What did you think of Peter?"

"Well," responded the humorist dryly, "anatomically he was great, but Uncle Tomically he is the worst I ever saw."

Black Sea Peculiarities.

The Black sea differs in a most remarkable manner from other seas and oceans. A surface current flows continuously from the Black sea into the Mediterranean and an under current from the Mediterranean into the Black sea. The latter current is salt, and, being heavier than the fresh water above, it remains stagnant at the bottom. Being saturated with sulphuretted hydrogen, this water will not maintain life, and so the Black sea contains no living inhabitants below the depth of about 100 fathoms. The deeper water when brought to the surface smells exactly like rotten eggs.

SPONGE FISHING.

Beyond a Depth of Fifty Feet They Must Be Got by Divers.

The sponge is an animal and not a vegetable, as some state. It breathes, eats and, when in the water, is filled with mucus. The sponge in its familiar state is only a carcass. Sponges are known to grow at a depth of 200 feet and live even deeper, doubtless. At the depth of fifty feet they can be forked by an expert fisher, but at a greater depth they must be got by diving.

Sponge fishers use a glass by which sponges can be seen growing on the bottom. The instrument is in the nature of a pail with a glass bottom, attached to the bow of the boat. It is submerged, so as to steady the vision, which otherwise would be contorted by the waves. The water where sponges grow is very clear, and bottom can be seen at a great depth.

The home of the sponge fishing industry is in Greece and centuries old. A large percentage of the Mediterranean sponges come from the island of Hydra. Some, however, come from off the coast of Tripoli. A few sponges come from the faroff land of Madagascar. There are two months in each year when sponge fishing is practically abandoned. This is in August and September, the hurricane months. During the other ten months the industry flourishes.

The Chaperon In the West.

All unmarried females of means and position are chaperoned here. Age doesn't matter. They are spinsters—that's enough. No tender maid of thirty goes unattended in California. No single woman of any age goes to the theater alone with a man, and, as for "buggy riding," the custom is unknown. No girl goes to a restaurant for lunch with a youth she has known from the cradle. It would not be correct, and it would not be entirely correct, either, for her to get another girl. No; she must have the chaperon—the tried and seasoned veteran of matrimony—or else the proprieties will be split up the back.

The ardor with which the cult of the chaperon has been taken up in the west should make the thoughtful pause. At the rate we're going at we'll soon be where they are in France, and it will be hopelessly compromising for any of us to walk two blocks on the public street with a man of our acquaintance.—Geraldine Bonner in San Francisco Argonaut.

Egypt's Veiled Women.

The tasmak, or veil, may be black or white, long or short, plain or embellished with rows of drawnwork or tucks and of any sort of fine, soft material. The women of the middle and lower classes wear for the most part black veils from one to three feet long. Those higher in the social grade wear white ones, and occasionally they reach to the hem of the dress. These are held in place by a metal tube that is fastened over the nose and lower part of the forehead by cords securely tied behind. When worn with this habara in the orthodox fashion, there is nothing visible but the woman's bright black eyes, which see everything going on. The tasmak and habara are capital disguises, and a woman may flirt to her heart's content without fear of being discovered, provided she is not followed to her home.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Broke His Circuit.

The shades of the goose and the turkey were discussing the circumstances which had attended their respective takings off.

"Did you offer any objection when first the cruel farmer laid hands on you?" sympathetically inquired the gobbler.

"Yes," replied his gooseship; "I cried out, 'Hello, what's this?'"

"What did you say next?" inquired the now thoroughly interested fowl.

"Oh," the goose replied, "I did not say anything more. Just then I was wrung off."—Michigan Lyre.

Grease on Wool.

It is said the powdered borax will take grease spots out of woolen goods better than anything else that can be used on short notice. Spread the skirt out with the spot over a smooth place on the table and rub the borax into it with the fingers, allowing it to remain a few minutes, then brush off with a whiskbroom. Do this two or three times or till the spot disappears, and your skirt is ready to wear.

A Cheerful Wait.

A laborer applied to the foreman at some building's workshop for a job: "Can yez do anything fur a poor fella at all in the shape ave work?"

Foreman—Ol bev nothin' the day. Cum back agen. There is a drunken carpenther workin' on the top, and Ol'm waitin' ivery minit till he falls and gits killed.

CAUSE OF ACCIDENT.

Some New Facts Bearing on the Mishap to the President's Party Wednesday

BY GOVERNOR CRANE'S SECRETARY

The Secretary Thinks the Car Was Running Twenty Miles an Hour When the Accident Occurred.

THE MISTAKE OF THE MOTORMAN

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—Some new facts of interest bearing upon the accident to the president's party at Pittsfield are given by John B. Smith, secretary to Governor Crane, who was in the third carriage behind that occupied by the president, and who saw the accident.

Mr. Smith returned to the state house yesterday and his story carries with it considerable weight. He says that in his judgment the car was going about twenty miles an hour. He said that there were no shrieks or yells at the moment of the collision, and, as a matter of fact, the silence was appalling.

Secretary Smith says he talked with Motorman Madden directly after the accident and that the latter stated that his car was going about eight miles an hour and that he did not think that the carriage of the president was going to cross at the point it did.

About the place where the accident happened, Mr. Smith explains that the street bears a little to the left. About 200 feet beyond where Driver Pratt attempted to cross the tracks the side roadway on which the president's carriage had been going terminated. A green sward at this further point came flush with the street car tracks. The roadway continued straight on up Howard's Hill.

Driver Pratt's object was, of course, to cross the tracks and strike the carriage road on the other side. Accordingly, the carriage would have kept to the side it was on for almost 200 feet.

"I am of the opinion that if it had kept there 100 feet the car would undoubtedly have swept by it," Mr. Smith said. "The motorman, I think, must have thought that the carriage would remain on the right of the tracks for a little distance further, and, therefore, he increased his speed to rush by before the crossing, which had to be made shortly, should it be attempted."

PITTSFIELD, Mass., September 5—Motorman Madden and Conductor Kelley, who were in charge of the car that struck the president's carriage Wednesday, were arraigned in the district court Thursday morning, but the case was continued to September 18, pending reports from the medical examiners.

Dr. Colt, medical examiner, will prepare a statement on the death of William Craig, the president's guard, who was killed in the collision which, with the result of the inquest, will be available when the men are again arranged. I was announced Thursday that the city council, will take immediate action to regulate the speed of trolley cars in this city.

Former State Representative William Turtle, the legal advisor of the Pittsfield Street Railway company, appeared for the defendants. The presiding judge was Joseph Tucker, president of the street railway company. Had a hearing been held he probably would have given place to an associate. It is believed that two weeks hence another postponement will be granted and that the preliminaries and action by the grand jury, if the case should come before it, will take up so much time that actual trial will not be reached before January.

Officers Elected.

The following are the officers selected by the Centre County Union Y. P. S. C. E. for the next year:

President, James A. Pratt, Unionville; vice president, Rev. Charles H. Frick, Blanchard, recording secretary, Nannie Fisher, Unionville; district and corresponding secretary, Frank P. Fisher, Loveville; treasurer, Mrs. R. B. Bierly, Milesburg.

Milesburg was chosen as the place of meeting next year.

—Captain Freeman, of the British steamer Roddam, has been presented with a silver vase in recognition of his devotion to duty in getting his vessel away from St Pierre. He has previously received three medals for his gallant conduct.

THE GOLDEN ROD ANNUAL.

When the young folks of Bellefonte set themselves to do any thing, it goes without saying that it is well done. From its inception, it was their determination to make this, the sixth annual "Golden Rod" dance, the most attractive of any heretofore held, and how well they succeed, it was only necessary to look in upon them Friday night as they were whirling in graceful movements and perfect time to the delightful music furnished by the Stopper and Fiske Orchestra of Williamsport.

The Armory was most beautifully decorated, in excelling in taste and design anything of the past. The walls being hung with mats embelished with Golden Rod; the stage contained screens ornamented with the same flower; the music stand was beautified by a profusion of our popular autumn plant, and on either side extending the full length of the building was a rail or guard composed entirely of Golden Rod trimmed to an even height, giving a most picturesque effect. The preparation of the Hall was in most perfect taste, and evinced the work of artists. The credit of the handsome decorations we are informed belongs to Frederick Blanchard, Esq.

The patronesses consisted of the following ladies: Mesdames L. T. Munson, J. H. Lingle, George B. Klump, M. B. Burnet, R. G. H. Hayes, and C. F. Montgomery, who received at the northern side of the Hall, where chairs and rugs had been arranged for their use.

At nine o'clock the strains of music commenced, and immediately the floor presented an animated scene. There were probably about fifty couples present, just enough to allow ample room for comfortable dancing.

During the evening refreshments were served by Ceader, and at two o'clock the music ceased and shortly afterwards the gay and happy throng had vanished, and the Armory was dark and quiet as the grave.

There were quite a number of visitors, among them being Mrs. Thomas Morris, of Tyrone; Misses Orr, of Pittsburg, Edna Williams, of Philipsburg, and Marie Roder, of Baltimore; Messrs. Allen, of Williamsport; John Gordon, of Clearfield, Fishburn, and Dr. George Greene, of Lock Haven, Lawson, Piper, and Candor, of Williamsport and Edward U. Valentine, of Philadelphia. The Committee having the "Annual" in charge, and who were indefatigable in their efforts to make it a success, comprised, Messrs. Edgar Burnside, Edmund Blanchard, Thomas Beaver, Fred. Blanchard and Randolph Hoy.

The Ballad of Mary Jane.

Quite a large number of persons assembled on the lawn at the rear of Mrs. Katherine W. Curtin's residence Thursday night to witness the "Shadow Play" of "Mary Jane."

It was given for the benefit of St. John's Parish House, which the members of the Episcopal congregation hope to build in the near future, and when finished will be used by their Sabbath School and for other purposes connected with the church.

The stage was arranged on the back porch and was covered with white muslin, with a light so arranged as to cast the shadows upon the curtain, the artists being hidden from view.

The characters were as follows:

Mary Jane, by Emeline Cooper.

Stalwart Benjamin, by Margaret Burnett.

Sire of Mary Jane, by Mary Cole.

Lord Mortimer, by Julia Curtin.

Miss Katherine Burnett read the Ballad of "Mary Jane," the performers following her in their acting and antics, the shadows produced being exceedingly amusing, the audience frequently applauding vociferously.

The play concluded with a shadow dance by the entire cast of characters. The receipts of the entertainment amounted to something over two dollars, which was very good, considering the price of admission was only ten cents for adults and five cents for children.

Fire in Boggs Township.

The dwelling house owned by John Sliker, located about two miles north of Milesburg, was totally destroyed by fire Thursday morning. Mr. Sliker got up, built a fire in the stove and then went to the barn to do the chores. Mrs. Sliker came down stairs and discovered the house on fire, but had only time to run up stairs and rescue a child that was sound asleep. All the personal effects were destroyed along with the building.

—Daniel Fahringer, of Colyer, who is one of the trackmen on the Bellefonte Central railroad had a rather serious misfortune caused by his hat blowing off his head when seated on a moving hand car. In reaching for his hat his hand in some manner was caught by the car machinery, and the result was several ligaments were severed in the right arm. Mr. Fahringer is at Colyer now nursing the injured member.

—John L. Shultz and Miss Mary Elizabeth Newman, both of Milesburg, were married Tuesday evening at Milesburg by Rev. Crouch, pastor of the Evangelical church at that place.

It is courting danger to stand under icy eaves. Not a few have learned this to their cost. Every winter injury and even death are reported as the result of this carelessness. But there is a far more popular way of courting danger. Every man or woman who neglects a cough is inviting sickness, and many a fatal sickness has its beginning in a slight cough.

The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure the cough. Even when the cough is obstinate and there is hemorrhage with emaciation and weakness, "Golden Medical Discovery" always helps and almost always cures.

"I was troubled with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and left me with a miserable cough," writes Mr. Joseph D. Burns, of 318 Huestis Street, Ithaca, New York. "I used two bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' after which my cough disappeared entirely. I cannot recommend your medicine too highly."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs. Substitution means a little more profit to the dealer but a loss to you.

—Tree crickets and katydids, with a rare whip-poor-will in the distance, make about the only sound to break the stillness of the night at present. Most of the singing birds have become silent. The woods thrush generally cease to sing about the latter part of July; but they were so rare this summer that only a few were heard about the cessation of the singing. None of the birds have started on their migration southward yet, but the red shouldered blackbirds and swallows will soon depart. But the English sparrow will always be with us. No day is too cold or season too hot for this teeny but hardy bit of bird flesh. Though not the most welcome they are always with us.

A Parson's Noble Act.

"I want all the world to know," writes Rev. C. J. Budlong, of Ashaway, R. I., "what a thoroughly good and reliable medicine I found in Electric Bitters. They cured me of jaundice and liver troubles that had caused me great suffering for many years. For a genuine, all-around cure they excel anything I ever saw." Electric Bitters are the surprise of all for their wonderful work in liver, kidney and stomach troubles. Don't fail to try them. Only 50 cts. Satisfaction is guaranteed by Green's Pharmacy.

Had a Hard Time.

We are informed that Charles Sherwood Welch, son of Z. S. Welch, of Romola, who served Uncle Sam during the Spanish-American war, and while serving as a soldier about a year ago in New Mexico, met with quite an accident recently.

He was riding his pony when a stampede of 300 wild ponies run onto him and trampled him and his horse to the ground. He came out with a dead pony, a broken leg and arm, and three broken ribs, but he has now recovered enough to be able to be around and at present is visiting his uncle, Lester Welch, in Denver, Colorado. —Howard Hustler.

Artificial Fuel.

The necessity for new fuel supplies is stimulating European inventors to great activity. The new process of Herr Stuber is claimed to convert peat and lignite into briquettes having a heating value fully equal to brown coal, and Germany's 5,000,000 acres of peat beds are consequently rising in importance.

Not less noteworthy is the system by which M. Riche, of Paris, claims to treble the yield of gas from the destructive distillation of wood, peat or lignite, the product being scarcely inferior to coal gas.

—It is well for the public generally to know that the recent treasurer's sales of seated lands will be the last, the legislation under which the sales have been conducted in the past having been suspended by the act of assembly in 1901. Under the new law, as it now stands, where the owner of the land fails to pay his taxes, the county commissioners simply file a claim in the prothonotary's office, thereupon it becomes a lien upon the land. The execution may then be issued and the land levied upon and sold by the sheriff. Owners of real estate will save considerable money in costs by paying their taxes promptly in the future.

PRESIDENT'S TRIP.

DEPARTURE FROM CAPITAL

Greeted by an Enthusiastic Assemblage That Crowded the Baltimore and Ohio Depot.

THE JOURNEY TO WASHINGTON

NEW YORK, September 6.—President Roosevelt left Jersey City for Washington on a Pennsylvania railroad train at 1:14 Friday afternoon.

The president was accompanied by Dr. Lung, Secretary Cortelyou, Stenographers Latta and Weaver and Detective Taylor. At Washington the party will be joined by Secretary Barnes.

Chief of Police Murphy, of Jersey City, and forty uniformed men, besides a score of detectives, were on duty at the ferry house and railroad station and a careful guard was kept over the President until his train departed.

The presidential party entered an observation car. Before boarding the car Mr. Roosevelt shook hands with the stationmaster. In response to the latter's queries, the president said he was feeling quite well. Secretary Cortelyou said he was feeling fairly well and had about recovered from the effects of Wednesday's accident.

The train pulled out of the Jersey City station promptly on time, at 1.14 p. m.

WASHINGTON, September 6.—Smilingly bowing in acknowledgement of the enthusiastic and prolonged cheering of an assemblage that fairly crowded the Baltimore and Ohio station here, President Roosevelt Friday night began his southern tour with Chattanooga, Tenn., as the objective point. The president was in the city one hour and twenty minutes. He arrived over the Pennsylvania railroad at 6.12 o'clock Friday evening on a special train of two cars, made up at Philadelphia Friday afternoon during the brief stop there en route from Oyster Bay. Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, chief Wilkie, of the secret service, Assistant Secretary to the President Barnes, and a number of other officials and white house attaches met him at the station. The president appeared a little disfigured as a result of the Pittsfield accident, but apparently had quite recovered from the shock. He stopped to shake hands with those who pressed about him to congratulate him on his escape from injury.

"Poor Craig!" he frequently exclaimed in expressing his thanks to his well wishers.

Though a cordon of police the president was escorted to carriages in waiting and was quickly driven to the Baltimore and Ohio station. Secretary Hitchcock, Commander Cowles, the president's brother-in-law, and Secretary Cortelyou, rode in the carriage with him.

The special train of seven handsomely equipped coaches was in readiness and the president immediately entered his car, merely lifted his hat in response to the greeting of the crowd. He spent most of the time between them and his departure in conversation with Civil Service Commissioner Garfield and with others who entered the car to meet him. To a number he described the accident at Pittsfield. He said it was not the first time he had had so providential an escape and referred to an incident in the battle of San Juan, when gunshots struck down two men beside him. The president told the Pittsfield story to the group in the car with feeling and emphasized it with gestures. He said he felt in normal condition again.

The train was just two minutes late when it pulled out at 7.32. It was in charge of Pullman Conductor W. M. Johnson, who has been assigned to the presidential specials for a long time past. The personnel of the president's party is the same as that on his New England trip, except for the addition of S. B. Hege, the general agent of the Baltimore and Ohio, and Colonel L. S. Brown, the general agent of the Southern railway. The president took dinner on the train short before his departure.

A Fortunate Discove

A. H. Waring and Silas Reese, of Philipsburg, have been employed for some time by the D. H. Parker Estate in prospecting for coal and fire clay on the latter's farm back of Wallaceton. They have been rewarded by finding a fine lot of coal, and a five foot vein of fire clay. The clay is soft, and experts have pronounced it to be of first class quality. It abounds in large quantities, and lies within less than a half mile of the Beech Creek railroad.—Philipsburg Journal.

Disappearance of a Disease.

The disappearance of one of the most fatal diseases to the American soldiers in the Philippines—dysentery—is causing great satisfaction to the medical branch of the Army. Surgeon General Forwood has received recent advices that this disease, which heretofore has caused more sickness and deaths than any other disease among the troops in the Philippines, has practically disappeared.

Death of Alexander Campbell.

Alexander Campbell a soldier of the rebellion died at his home in Bush Addition of dropsy after an illness of nine weeks. Death came to the aged sufferer at 7 o'clock Thursday morning. He was 69 years old on the 31st day of August, had been a resident of Bellefonte for twelve years, he moved from Mines, Blair Co, to this place. His soldier record was an honorable one, having been a member of Co. I, 5th regiment, Penna Reserves, and served as long as a traitor to his country and flag was left to face him. He was born at Barre, Huntingdon County, and leaves a wife and five children, Frank, Berths, Mrs. John Morrison and Nora of Bellefonte and Orris of Niagara Falls. Funeral from the house at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, conducted by Rev. W H. Brown of the Evangelical church, interment at Forge cemetery.

Turns them to Stone.

Human bodies buried in limestone countries are often turned to solid stone by the limewater which penetrates the graves. In other soils there are elements which sometimes so embalm the buried dead as to preserve form and features unchanged. Many such cases are on record. Robert Burns' body was disinterred in 1815 to be removed to a new tomb. To the surprise of all his friends the features were found to be as perfect as at burial. When the body of John Hampden, the famous English patriot and leader, was disinterred by Lord Nugent 200 years after burial the form and features were as unchanged as if the corpse had been recently laid in the grave.

CLOCKS OF THE PAST.

They Were Very Different From Modern Time Telling Machines.

The word clock, derived from the French gloche, German glocke, signifies a bell, and up to the fourteenth century it was only used to designate a bell which was struck at certain periods of time indicated by the hourglass, Sundials, or "gnomons," were the first instruments used in measuring time, and there is but little doubt that the long granite pillars which we call obelisks were used by the Egyptians, if not as actual sundial hands, at least for some astronomical observations of the movement of the sun.

Clepsydras, or water clocks, and sand clocks come next in order. The flow of sand through a small orifice is an accurate method of measuring time, for the exit of the sand is always regular, but water is influenced by the laws of hydrostatics—when the vase is full the water runs out faster than when it is nearly empty. Candle clocks or tapers on which were colored bands indicating how much was consumed in a certain time were also used, and their invention is attributed to Alfred the Great; but this method is even more susceptible to error than the previous ones.—Jewelers' Review.

A Domestic Convenience.

Garson—Have you hot water in your house?

De Long—Yes; my wife's mother lives with us.

Be Something.

One of the secrets of success in life lies in the making up of one's mind to be something and then following up his decisions, but to follow them is another matter.

It is indeed hard for a man to change; the habit of making resolutions to be broken at first temptation soon grows into such weakness that the whole mental and moral fiber is affected. Well it is for a boy that forms a habit of decision in youth and follows it eternally through life. He will save many heartaches and many tears.

Boys begin life by drifting. They do not try to stem the current, but float along whither the stream will take them, whirled in every eddy, on and on, until they get soaked in the waters of the stream and sink out of sight. There are many boys who need direction. All the boys we might say. They need a pilot—one that can guide them between rocks and take them safely over the ripples. Right is up stream and it is hard to reach it. By constant work they can each day accomplish something.

But let him rest, and he floats along the surface. It's pleasant floating, but the rapids lie below. Be careful, my boy, lest you be caught in the current and be swept away forever.—Silent Hoosier.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.

And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

EDITORIAL.

THE BELLEFONTE "REPUBLICAN" FOR 25 CENTS.

In order to place the REPUBLICAN, during the coming campaign, in as many homes as possible, we have decided to make the following liberal offer, On receipt of 25 cents, we will mail the REPUBLICAN (weekly) to new subscribers, until after the election in November. As the campaign promises to be decidedly exciting and interesting, persons wishing to keep themselves informed on the political situation, should avail themselves of this generous offer. The REPUBLICAN intends taking a leading and decided stand during the campaign, and we promise interesting reading to its subscribers.

REPUBLICAN DAY AT GRANGE PARK.

Next Tuesday, September 16th, the following distinguished Republicans will be at the Grange Picnic at Centre Hall: Hon. S. W. Pennypacker, candidate for Governor; Hon. Boies Penrose, United States Senator; Charles Emory Smith, ex-Postmaster General; Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart; Hon. S. R. Dresser, candidate for Congress; Hon. A. E. Patton, candidate for State Senator, and all the candidates of the Republican County Ticket.

During the afternoon Judge Pennypacker will make a speech on "The Issues of the Day," and several other of the distinguished gentlemen will discuss the political situation.

Col. Reeder, chairman of the Republican County Committee, has made arrangements for special trains running both East and West, leaving the Park and returning to Coburn at 7:00 p. m. and to Bellefonte at 9:30 p. m. Bands of music have been engaged to enliven the occasion.

It now remains with the Republicans of the county to make this the greatest day of the campaign, and this will in all probability be the only opportunity we will have of meeting our candidate for Governor before the election.

We trust an immense crowd will be present, showing our fealty to the candidates and our party.

The Democratic party is making herculean efforts to carry Pennsylvania for Pattison, and expect to have him at the same place the following Thursday, and intend giving him a rousing reception. Don't let it be said that we are too indifferent to spend a few hours in the interests of the great Republican party; and besides we know that if the people hear Mr. Pennypacker speak, and see the man himself, they will be more determined than ever to place him in the gubernatorial chair.

VOTE FOR HON. SAMUEL W. PENNYPACKER.

The Democratic party has placed in nomination Hon. Robert E. Pattison as their candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania and is calling upon the Republicans of the State to support his nomination, but why any Republican should vote for Mr. Pattison passes our knowledge. He has been tried twice and we fail to discover any good results coming from either of his administrations. The only thing he can accomplish or will do is to turn out the thousands of Republican office-holders and fill their places with hungry Democrats. This he has done twice and had he an opportunity would do so again.

The Republicans have nominated for their candidate Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker, a gentleman of known integrity and who has faithfully discharged the duties of Judge in the Philadelphia courts for many years, and retired from that position with his reputation and character unsullied, and the judicial ermine, which he laid aside to enter this campaign, is as clean and pure as when he assumed that exalted and honorable position.

Not one of his political enemies has the temerity to attack his public or private life, but acknowledge him the peer of their own candidate. Still they ask us to give the reins of government into the hands of Pattison, who can promise no more for the good name or prosperity of this great State than can Judge Pennypacker.

Mr. Pennypacker has always been and is now a Republican, in full sympathy with the policy of the National Administration, and when elected will do everything to sustain and aid our President in carrying out Republican principles.

Mr. Pattison, on the contrary, is a bitter partisan Democrat, and will do his utmost to place obstacles in the way of Republican prosperity in the Keystone State and will embarrass the administration of President Roosevelt in a greater degree than any calamity that could befall our country. No true Republican can have any good reason for not voting for Hon. Samuel W. Pennypacker.

A VOTE for S. R. Dresser for Congress, means a vote for prosperity.

A vote for Hibner means the closing of our furnaces, rolling mills and manufacturing establishments; just like the good democratic days, when Grover Cleveland was President. At that time, we remember, not a furnace nor rolling mill was running in Centre county.

ALTHOUGH the County Auditors come near the bottom of the ticket their duties are of vast importance to the tax payers. Our candidates, Pontius and Allison, are competent and in every way qualified to detect anything wrong in the affairs of the county officials.

EARLE C. TUTEN, the Republican candidate for Register, is making hosts of friends among the people throughout the county.

Coal 23 cents a Bucket.

Imagine yourself carrying coal to your stove from a grocery at 23 cents a bucket That's what the masses of people are doing now in Philadelphia, the anthracite region's nearest big city; according to a letter received by a local man from a Philadelphia relative, There are a lot of people there who have always bought their coal by the bucket, but before the strike they had to pay only from 5 to 8 cents a bucket for it. There are about 80 buckets to a ton, so that at this retail bucket rate the poor people of the Quaker City are now paying $18.40 a ton for coal.

The Disgruntled Democratic Outfit Holds a Rump Convention and Nominates Pattison—Money Flowed Like Water—An Attempt to Buy Up Loyal Republicans—McClure and Clement Write Interesting Letters.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—The most disgraceful episode in the history of Pennsylvania politics occurred in this city on Wednesday last. It was the attempt of a band of paid emissaries of the Democratic party to control the state convention of the Union party and force the nomination of Pattison and Guthrie.

To accomplish this result a crowd of hirelings, many of them armed with black-jacks, took possession of Musical Fund Hall at midnight Tuesday. They barricaded the doors and prepared to pack the convention hall the following morning by admitting only those delegates whom they knew would vote for Pattison and Guthrie, with other men selected from the worst elements in the Democratic slum districts of Pittsburg and Philadelphia, to whom bogus credentials had been given. When, the following morning, 300 properly selected delegates of Republican tendencies marched in a body from the Pennypacker headquarters on Walnut street to Musical Fund Hall they were refused admittance.

SELECTED THEIR OWN POLICE.

A small army of policemen, under a lieutenant, selected by State Chairman F. M. Riter, of the Union party, was on hand. Mr. Riter was formerly director of public safety of Philadelphia, and made a personal request of the authorities that this particular officer and his men be detailed at the hall. The policemen were therefore not there in the interest of the Pennypacker delegates, inasmuch as they had been selected by Mr. Riter. After repeated refusals had been made for admission to the hall, the Pennypacker delegates forced their way past the armed doorkeepers on the outside. At the inner door they encountered a squad of Democrats armed with blackjacks and axe handles.

As the Pennypacker men started to ascend the stairs the hired heelers of the Democratic crowd threw benches and chairs on the heads of the delegates. A number of the Republicans were injured. After 15 minutes of struggling the Republican delegates managed to force their way into the hall and took their seats.

Chairman Riter, who, with Secretary Mapes, has been most active in trying to force the nomination of Pattison and Guthrie upon the Union party, took charge of the meeting and called it to order, and without further preliminaries ordered Secretary Mapes to call a roll of delegates which he had prepared himself. It was at this point that the Pennypacker faction, which was largely in the majority, asserted its rights.

In his zeal to swing the Union party over to the control of Col. Jas. M. Guffey and the Democratic leaders of Pennsylvania, State Chairman Riter over shot the mark. He had made up his own roll of delegates, mostly composed of Democrats from the various counties in the state, and declared that this was the official roll and the only one that would be recognized. It is a notorious fact that large sums of money had been spent in securing the attendance of men from all over the state who posed as delegates to the convention. Estimates made by the leaders of the Pennypacker faction show at least $20,000 was spent by Democratic leaders in their attempt to capture the Union party.

MONEY WAS PLENTY.

Money was poured like water into the western counties, and free transportation, hotel bills and spending money, even, was supplied to men who came to Philadelphia to pose as delegates to this convention. In Fayette and Washington counties the most liberal offers were made to Pennypacker men in the Union party to desert their cause for Robert E. Pattison. Scarcely a county in the state but that was visited by a Democratic missionary with a wad of money.

The Pennypacker admirers among the Union delegates did not propose to be dominated by such elements, and so when the attempt was made in the convention to call the roll prepared by Messrs. Riter and Mapes, William R. Knight, of Philadelphia, who last year was the Union party candidate for magistrate in Philadelphia, protested and tried to offer the roll prepared by a majority of the Union State Committee at a meeting held the previous afternoon at the Union headquarters at the Continental Hotel At this meeting a large majority of the state committee favored the nomination of Judge Pennypacker. The committee accordingly prepared a roll admitting all contesting delegations, as is customary.

The Riter roll did not admit contesting delegations. It was an arbitrary list of names prepared for a purpose. A sample of this work was shown when the Lancaster county regular Union delegation headed by State Chairman Powden went to the Union headquarters Wednesday morning to secure their tickets for admission to the hall. They were told that there were no tickets for them; that Lancaster county tickets had already been given out to another Lancaster delegation.

When Mr. Knight endeavored to protest against the call of this roll Chairman Riter ordered him to his seat. Instantly it became apparent that the Democratic crowd proposed to control the convention despite everything. A motion was made and carried like a whirlwind by the Pennypacker faction that Wm. R. Knight, the head of the Philadelphia delegation, be elected temporary chairman. It was carried overwhelmingly and Mr. Knight started to ascend the stage. As he reached the table of the chairman there was an outbreak of hostilities. State Chairman Riter caught Knight by the throat and threw him off the platform. The next instant, backed by twenty muscular Pennypacker delegates the Philadelphian was carried on the stage and placed in charge of the convention.

TRIED TO BREAK IT UP.

Seeing that their plans for control by force and violation of parliamentary usage were at an end the Democrats endeavored to halt all proceedings by a bedlam of noise, hoots and cat calls and pounding on benches and chairs with canes and pieces of wood.

Undismayed, however, Chairman Knight carried the work of the convention successfully to a close. At times he could scarcely hear his own voice for the din raised by the Democrats and their allies. Judge Pennypacker and the Republican ticket was nominated and a platform adopted. The convention then adjourned.

Disappointed and disgruntled at the failure of their attempt to control the convention the minority with Chairman Riter and Secretary Mapes at its head, held a rump convention in the Continental hotel Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Here they carried out their original scheme of nominating Pattison and Guthrie and nominated ex-Senator Lewis Emery, Jr., of Venango, for secretary of internal affairs. Emery begged to be left off the ticket, but the reactionaries refused to listen to his request and nominated him against his wishes.

The attempt of the Democrats to capture the Union party was a deliberate and well thought out scheme. The plan is credited to National Committeeman Col. Jas. M. Guffey. That it failed was not due to any lack of funds, but because the men engaged in carrying out the details were political tyros. They knew it was a dangerous game, for the Philadelphia managers packed the convention hall with their heelers the night before, and then not only asked for police protection but designated the officers to command the men.

COL. McCLURE DENOUNCES PARTY

The first bomb thrown into the camp of the schemers was an open letter from Col. A. K. McClure, former editor of the Philadelphia Times, in which he resigned from the Union party state committee, and denounced the scheme of attempting to turn the Union party over to the Democrats. Col. McClure said:

"I shall heartily support Judge Pennypacker for governor. His political environment is quite as healthy as that of his competitors and his personal integrity and admitted ability give the best assurance of honest state administration. I have known him personally and well for thirty years and have never found a blemish upon his political or private record. He was not a party to his own nomination and he is free to accept the duties of the high office and perform them with eminent benefits to the people of our great commonwealth. If only questions of state policy were involved in the present contest, as was the case last year, I would most heartily support any state ticket that gave reasonable promise of state and city reform, but there is no party leadership on either side in the present struggle to give such assurance. Character and qualifications of individual candidates thus become vital and I accept Judge Pennypacker as the most worthy of the trust and support of the people."

CLEMENT SCORES THE SCHEME.

This was followed by an open letter from the city chairman of the Union party, S. M. Clement, Jr., who in another open letter attacking the schemers said:

"I am informed by the very best authority and upon the most convincing evidence that certain persons connected with the Union Party State Committee, who are also the paid servants of the Democratic Machine, or its bosses, are attempting to control the roll of the convention and the convention itself in the interest of their masters, the Democratic Machine. I am quite sure that you will not lend your official position to any such dishonest and unlawful conspiracy.

"You will remember, Mr. Chairman, that this is the same Democratic machine in Philadelphia which left nothing undone to defeat our candidates a year ago. This year that machine, I am credibly informed, intends to buy, bully and control this convention, they having gone so far as to have the hall where the convention is to held secured for the night immediately preceding the convention, in order that a sufficient number of toughs should be put in possession of the hall to resort to the old Democratic method of tossing delegates out of the windows."

The failure to defeat the nomination of Judge Pennypacker was largely due to the security felt by the schemers. They had been supplied with money and men, but they did not figure upon any show of strength by the Pennypacker men. Where attempts to purchase delegates failed a contesting delegation was made up. But the activity of the friends of Judge Pennypacker in the Union party prevented the consumation of the Democratic plans.

It is probable that the Union party fight will go to court. Meantime the convention of the Union party that was called for Musical Fund Hall, Philadelphia, September 5th, 1902, convened and nominated the entire Republican ticket, because the majority of the delegates so voted.

It is also true that the disappointed Democratic minority held a rump convention at the Continental hotel the same afternoon and nominated the Democratic ticket with the exception of secretary of internal affairs.

Torn by Bloodhounds.

An awful struggle occurred between two tramps and a pair of bloodhounds late Saturday evening on the public square of New Bedford, Mercer county. The dogs rushed upon the men from behind and bore them to the ground before the hobos realized what was occurring. The cries of the men and the savage yells of the dogs soon brought a crowd about the struggling mass. The canines were finally beaten off, but not before a blacksmith brought red hot irons into play to make them release their hold. The tramps were covered with blood and badly injured.

The bloodhounds had broken away from Deputy Sheriff Joseph Smith, of Mahoning county, O., who was using them to trail a party of gypsies that had passed through Youngstown a few hours previously and were supposed to have kidnapped a small boy. The officer kept a leash on the animals, but they had broken the thongs as they neared the tramps and attacked them before the deputy was aware of their intentions. The tramps were the unfortunate victims of a mistake. They had met the gypsie band and had traveled with them for some distance before separating. When the trails divided the dogs had become mixed and followed the tramps afoot instead of the gypsies in wagons.

—George Hoskins, of Norristown, an employe of Walter L. Main's show, is in the Altoona hospital suffering with a compound fracture of the left leg and a laceration of the scalp. He says on Friday night, while the show was on the way from Huntingdon to Everett, over $200 worth of stuff was taken from the cars. Saturday night, at Everett, he obtained permission from the manager to ride on the flat cars, and in company with Monroe Everett, to see if they could not apprehend the thieves. Accordingly they went on flat cars when the train left Everett to return to Huntingdon, and, while the train was in motion, some person or persons stole up on the two men, struck them over the head and then threw the men from the moving train and down over an embankment. Hoskins fell in about twelve inches of water, and, as he lay there, called to his companion, but could get no answer, and from the way he fell believes Everett was killed. Hoskins did not remember how he was picked up, but some one found him and he was taken to Huntingdon, where Dr. Brumbaugh dressed his injuries, which were as above mentioned, and he was then sent to the hospital.—Tyrone Herald.

For Boys Only.

A thoroughly enjoyable series of entertainments for boys are being arranged by the Young Men's Christian Association.

The first will be given Saturday evening Sept. 13, and will consist of a magic lantern trip to the Rocky Mountains, and some other places,—illustrated songs, etc.

Admission will be by tickets which may be obtained free by boys between 12 and 16 years of age, either at the Association office or from Junior members.

These entertainments will begin at 7:30 p. m. and in no case will the program continue later than 9 o'clock.

Pawnee Bill's Wild West.

From the steppes of Russia to the torrid zone has Pawnee Bill drawn his mounted heroes of the world that will be seen here on Saturday Sept. 20. Many startling and positively new features have been added to his famous exhibition employing fully a thousand people of all nations. Watch for the Big Street Parade.

—A Newcastle man, who seldom attends church services was persuaded to hear a sermon and was much impressed. "You are never too old to learn," he remarked confidentially to a friend. Coaches to be Fitted With Steam Appliances.

The Renova shops received orders to equip cars for trains on the eastern division with steam heating systems. Thirteen cars—five baggage, four combination and four coaches will be so improved. Six locomotives will also have the necessary appliances put in.

There are Others.

An Englishman who recently visited the United States as a member of a commission to investigate the state of the iron trade here, has introduced in his report an expression of surprise at the "comparative absence of a leisure class" in the western republic. The gentleman's observation was decidedly superficial. In Altoona, at least, we have a large and constantly growing "leisure class," composed almost exclusively of the idle sons of industrious fathers and mothers. They spend the greater part of their time in bar-rooms, tobacco stores and similar resorts, although when the weather is favorable they are found in considerable numbers on the street corners, at most amusements. Where the money comes from that pays their expenses and contributes to the gratification of their appetites nobody surely knows, although the chances are that their hardworking mothers and sisters—not to mention an occasional wife, might elucidate the mystery if they could be persuaded to talk. Our information is to the effect that this "leisure class" is not unknown in other cities. It is true that it does not answer to the Englishman's idea of a leisure class, but it is about the only one we have in the United State. It is a "leisure class" of which no industrious American citizen is proud, but it exists and we must make the most of it.—Altoona Tribune.

—Edward Peters, of Altoona, and Miss Mace Hunter, of Bellwood, were married on August 26, in Cleveland, O. The contracting parties are both estimable young people and their marriage is the ending of a romance which begun about five years ago, during the business career of Waldow & Co., Altoona, when the groom was employed as a salesman and the bride as bookkeeper of the firm. Mr. Peters is at present employed as a wood machinist in the cabinet department of the Pennsylvania Railroad company car shop in Altoona and is also prominently identified with a number of fraternal societies being president of one of the bodies of the Junior Order United American Mechanics in that city. The bride is one of Bellwood's fairest young ladies.

Girls Masquerade in Male Attire.

A special officer at DuBois arrested two young ladies on Thursday night at that place who were wearing male attire. The girls were in company with a young man. The Express says they were escorted by the officer to the office of the burgess where they were given some wholesome advice and allowed to go.

One of the adventurous maids, it is said was a DuBois girl, while the other one and male companion were from Reynoldsville. The girls gave their names as Grace Kirk and Jennie Clark. The man gave his name Morris Gloutz.

Paying the Soldiers.

Warrants were issued on Tuesday for the pay of the troops on duty in the anthracite coal region from July 31 to August 31, inclusive. The warrants were forwarded to General Gobin, and it was expected the soldiers would be paid today. Hereafter the men will be paid every two weeks. For the past thirty-two days' service each private will receive $48. A private is paid $1.50 a day; a corporal $1.75; a duty sergeant, $2; orderly sergeant, $3; second lieutenant, $3.89 first lieutenant, $4.17; captain, $5; major, $7.50 colonel, $10, and brigadier general $15 a day.

Mrs. Nearhoof, of Port Matilda, was a recent guest of Wesley Crain and family.

A game of base ball was played between the up town and down town, married men and single men, on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 30. The game throughout was interesting intermingled with madness and gladness. A number of white washes or skunks were given. After the seventh inning they left for their homes rejoicing over the score, in favor of down town boys 18 to 6.

Mr. Resides is a farmer whose success is due to his close attention to the details of his farm. He has also made a reputation as a raiser of poultry and fine fruits. On account of his advanced years he now thinks of retiring from the farm and spending the rest of his time in leisure.

A TRIP THROUGH THE RIDGES.

Principally in the Locality of the Beckwith Tragedy.

Among the first persons whom I met when I started on last week's tour was John A. Spicer of Milesburg, who was driving toward Bellefonte. After dining at the home of E. S. Long I found Joseph Gill of Unionville assisting in raising potatoes on the premises of E. E. White. In the station at Snow Shoe Intersection were Rev. and Mrs. Sparks of Runville and also J. H. Snyder, the agent. A. Forcey of Unionville was also driving toward Bellefonte.

Meeting W. T. Harper who lives above Unionville we agreed to have an extended conversation at his home in the evening and I went there after adding his next door neighbor, David Hoover, to the subscription list. Mr. Hoover formerly lived in Bellefonte, but likes his present location and occupation much better. Among the things Mr. Hoover does not like is a newspaper which sends a year's subscription as a wedding present to a newly-wedded couple and then at the end of the year sends a bill for the payment of the same. I would not like that either so I guess I will not get married for fear that newspaper will want me to pay for my wedding present.

At Julian there were added to the list Allen Boyers and R. E. Woods of that place, where I also saw W. P. Parsons, Rev. John Craig, John Henderson, the merchant, and dined with Samuel Hosband and his excellent family. Rev. Craig was quite reminiscent in regard to Company C, 148th Reg., Civil war, of which he says there are only five survivors. Another in the same locality is Martin Funk, who is greatly afflicted and has not been in bed for many years. In the afternoon I walked out to the home of Jacob B. Moore and also called on J. C. Nason, whose daughter, Mrs. Andrews, keeps a large stock of millinery and other goods and evidently attracts patronage from all that portion of the valley. Of course, in the evening I did not pass the home of my friend Orlando Nason, Esq., of Locust Mills, where the time was pleasantly passed until morning.

Next morning the first person to render me happy was E. M. Kyler, the station agent at Martha. Just here Mr. Budd Thompson gave valuable assistance. Though he did not subscribe for himself he used his influence to secure Roy Morrison, Grant Martin and Ebenezer Williams, for which, Mr. T., please consider my hat off. At Port Matilda a perfect harvest of subscribers began to be gathered. First was W. L. Williams, who operates a saw mill near by and was then raising potatoes. Then came Stephen Woodring and Wm. E. Wiser, who was stirring apple butter. I ate dinner with him.

At Hannah I met G. M. Walk and then went way out toward the mountain, Andrew Weaver and his mother kindly taking me in for the night and of course they will hereafter read the REPUBLICAN.

Thursday morning I met James Dixson and Benjamin Weaver and put their names on my list. A little further down the the mountain John R. Frantz gave me permission to do likewise with his name. Then W. S. Peters gave a cheerful consent and I climbed over the hill to see the Adamses—three families, Matthew, Wm. H. and Orion living there. At Matthew Adams' I ate dinner and was much entertained by his pleasant boys. One—only about 10 years of age—showed me a gun which he himself had made. There were three or four boys there, all bright young people. I understand that Mr. and Mrs. Adams are the parents of nine boys and five girls. They recently enjoyed a visit to a son who lives in Pittsburg.

After dinner I found three families of Kelleys living in the next ravine further east and added B. B. Kelley to my list. Then arriving at the pike from Port Matilda to Philipsburg I found John Wining raising potatoes and added his name. Further down the pike there was A. R. Woodring and after climbing over the next hill I met and enrolled on the REPUBLICAN honor list both Joseph H. Brown and E. C. Shobert, both of Port Matilda. Mr. Shobert is a carpenter who is rebuilding a house owned by Mr. Pringle of Port Matilda. The house was occupied by Joseph H. Brown and only about two weeks ago about noon one day it was burned to the ground with nearly all the furniture. Now Mr. and Mrs. Brown are "roughing it" in a shanty and are extremely anxious, for their new abode to be ready for occupancy. It was tiresome work to climb over the hills and night found me in a community where I was but slightly acquainted. But Lloyd Stiver and wife made me at home and when I came away in the morning it was with their name in my receipt book and an invitation to come again. Then I made my way toward Port Matilda as the most accessable place to catch the train. I saw S. W. Cowher high up in a tree gathering pears at the home of Jesse Woodring. John Daughenbaugh, who resides on the Philipsburg pike, concluded to subscribe and then I quite quickly added Wm. T. Weaver, James Cowher, the blacksmith, T. R. and E. T. Robinson, who I guess are railroad men, and Mrs. Emily Dellett. Then I came home—the grand total of new subscribers in five days being 32—the best record thus far.

It is remarkable what a difference of opinion exists in that locality in regard to Frank Beckwith and his wife, who was the victim of the late tragedy. One will say that all the fault was with the woman while others just next door will assert with equal positiveness that the man was most to blame. The opinion seems about equally divided, and it certainly required the most accurate judicial mind to arrive at the truth.

NEWTON S. BAILEY.

—A household necessity. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Heals burns, cuts, wounds of and sort; cures sore throat, croup, catarrh, asthma. never fails.

—Joseph Brothers & Co., of this place have been awarded the contract for carpeting the Lutheran church at Boalsburg. It will take 1000 yards of carpet.

—"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure. B. B. B. has made me a perfectly well woman." —Mrs. Charles Hutton, Berville, Mich.

—Henry C. Quigley, Esq, is now located in h s handsome office No. 6 Temple Court and is ready to receive his friends and clients. Mr. Quigley is among our formost lawyers and is rapidly building up a large clientage.

—For forty years Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been curing summer complaint, dysentery, diarrhoea, bloody flux, pain in the stomach, and it has never yet failed to do everything claimed for it.

—The 15th Annual Convention of Centre Co., W. C. T. U. will be held in Petrikin Hall, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 17th and 18th. Rev. Anna Shaw will lecture on Wednesday evening at 8:15. Do not fail to hear her.

—Judge John G. Love, of Bellefonte, will preside at court at Hollidaysburg, Friday afternoon to hear the arguments of counsel on the exceptions to the report of A. W. Porter, Esq., auditor in the estate of James Gardner, late banker of Hollidaysburg.

—The contract for building the new auditorium at State College, for which Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Schwab so generously donated $100,000, was awarded Tuesday to George F. Payne & Co., of Philadelphia, architects and builders. Work will be commenced at once.

—We invite attention of our readers to the advertisement of Gable & Co., which appears in this issue. This progressive firm will have an exhibition of Dry Goods, etc., at the Grange Pic-nic next week, which will be sold at the same prices as asked at their Mammoth Altoona store.

—Matt. Dooly was the victim of a ludicrous mistake Tuesday evening. He was passing Harvey Miller's store, and looking up saw the new dummy standing in front of the door, which is dressed in a full hunting outfit with gun, two revolvers sticking in the belt, and a bottle of cartridges (?) in the pocket. Without giving a second glance he took it to be Warden Joe Rightnour and started a conversation about hunting, etc. He would probably have been talking yet had not some friend come along and told him of his mistake. Matt still insists it looks enough like Joe to be his twin brother.

—John L. Kreider, aged 64 years and 9 months, died at his home at Spring Mount, near Warriorsmark, on Sunday. Mr. Kreider was a sufferer from paralysis and has been almost helpless for many years. One daughter, Mrs. Minnie Ale, of Warriorsmark valley, survives him. He also leaves two brothers, Samuel B. Kreider, of Buffalo Run, an Chilian Kreider, of Bellefonte; and one sister, Mrs. Mary B. Mattern, of Buffalo Run The funeral took place from the German Baptist Brethren church at Spring Mount at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Many a Bellefonte Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching.

With distressing urinary disorders.

Daily existence is but a struggle.

No need to keep it up.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

Bellefonte people endorse this claim.

Mr. B. H. Shaffer, of Howard Street, tinsmith, says: "I had backache, a lameness just over hips and when I took cold there was always difficulty with the kidney secretions. The lameness in my loins was very inconvenient for I could not move quickly without having sharp twinges through me and if bending forward I could hardly straighten. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills, procured them from F. Potts Green's drug store and took them. They banished the pain and lameness."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Old Age.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of Nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. The very shadow of eclipse which threatens it, makes it the more prized. It stands for experience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. That is old age as it should be. But old age as it so often is means nothing but a second childhood of mind and body. What makes the difference? Very largely the care of the stomach. In youth and the full strength of manhood it doesn't seem to matter how we treat the stomach. We abuse it, overwork it, injure it. We don't suffer from it much. But when age comes the stomach is worn out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body, and the body, unnourished, falls into senile decay. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are "weak" and whose digestions are "poor". Its invigorating effects are felt by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age, and makes old people strong.

—Years of suffering relieved in a night. Itching piles yield at once to the curative properties of Doan's Ointment. Never fails. At any drug store. 50 cents.

—James Bayard is superintending the job of laying a new tar walk in front of the residence of postmaster Jno. W. Stuart at State College.

—The new Lutheran church at Lewisburg was dedicated last Sunday and at the same time the congregation celebrated its one hundredth anniversary.

—James A. Keller, President of the Penns Valley Banking company, has been a great sufferer from rheumatism since last Sunday. His condition is slowly improving.

—E. M. Krug has resigned his position as business manager of The Times at State College, and has gone to Lock Haven to take a position in the Clinton County Democrat office. May success go with him.

—W. B. Mingle, Esq., has his Kentucky colt back from Bellefonte, where it was in the hands of a trainer for two or more weeks. The animal has the appearance of a young lass who has just finished her course under the dancing master.—Centre Reporter.

—The Street Committee are having the material hauled to various parts of the town to replace some of the old stone crossings with vitrified brick, these are much needed improvements and will make it possible to cross some of the streets without wading through mud.

—Mrs. J. Malcolm Laurie showed us a basket of fruit which her brother who has just returned from Peru, brought to show some of the products of that country part of it is in appearance like our pears but do not look as if they would be as luscious, in fact, none of it tempted our appetite.

—Lloy Aurand of Milroy, nephew of Mr. Ralph Spigelmyer and clerk in the Racket store at this place was operated on Thursday afternoon for appendicitis at the Bellefonte Hospital by Doctor's Sebring, Klump and Hayes.

—This community was again startled Thursday afternoon by the sound of the fire alarm. Upon investigation it proved to be the apartments in Criders Exchange occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Will Chambers. But slight damage was done to the woodwork about one of the windows. The origin of the fire is a mystery as both Mr. and Mrs. Chambers were absent from home at the time.

—J. C. Pelton, the first public school teacher of California, is still living at Los Angeles at the age of 76. He is a great-grandson of Joel Pelton, who fired the first shot at Bunker Hill and was killed by the first British cannon shot. His father used to tell with pleasure how Cornwallis bowed his head as he passed under his extended bayonet at the Yorktown surrender.

—Employes of the Pennsylvania railroad must pay their debts hereafter or forfeit their positions. They have no alternative in the matter and if the money for just debts is not paid within a reasonable time the railroad will cease to continue the men's names on the pay rolls. Such is an order sent out from Philadelphia. All divisions have received the manifesto and all must act accordingly.

—A. C. Saner, of near Petersburg, makes a specialty of raising canteloupes for market, and has achieved a success in their production, which has been uniform until this year. Early in the season he sent to a prominent seed-house for a large quantity of melon-seeds and upon receiving his consignment he planted the seeds, 1800 hills of them, covering three acres of ground. Of course he looked for a large crop, and got it—in cucumbers. By mistake cucumber seeds had been shipped to him and he did not discover the error until his vines were so well grown that he had to be satisfied with cucumbers or nothing. Now he has sufficient of the long greens to realize a big lot of long green if the market were only crying for cucumbers. There is a limit to the demand, however, and Mr. Saner is finding some difficulty in disposing of the surprise party which his three-acre melon patch gave him.

PRESIDENT IN AN ACCIDENT

Vehicle Struck By a Trolley Car. Secret Service Man and Horses Killed.

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION LAW

Governor Stone Believes It is Practicable and Urgently Demanded—Union Party Hold Stormy Convention

IN PHILADELPHIA ON WEDNESDAY

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Sept. 4.—President Roosevelt had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday afternoon while driving from Pittsfield to Lenox. The carriage in which the president and his party were riding was struck by an electric car. The president escaped with only a few bruises and a badly scratched face. Secretary Cortelyou was also somewhat bruised. Secret Service Agent Craig was killed, as was also the horses attached to the carriage.

UNION PARTY CONVENTION.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—The factional fight in the Union party over the indorsement of Samuel W. Pennypacker or Robert E. Pattison, as the gubernatorial candidate to head the state ticket, culminated Wednesday in the holding of two conventions. The regularly called convention to be held in Musical Fund hall, was captured by the Pennypacker people and endorsed the complete Republican state ticket. There was rioting and disorder from start to finish. Knives were drawn, pistols flourished and blackjacks used.

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 4.—Before starting for Harrisburg yesterday afternoon Governor Stone made the following statement, in which he declares in general terms in favor of a compulsory arbitration law:

"A law that would settle labor disputes between employer and employe must of necessity be a compulsory arbitration law and the award must be final and conclusive. This law must be drafted for the protection of society and must not be drawn in the interests of the employer or employe.

"Experience teaches that strikes endanger life and property. Whenever life and property are in jeopardy society is menaced, therefore, legislation should be considered and drawn for the protection of life and property as a police regulation benefitting the general public and protecting society.

"In a general strike like the present one in the anthracite coal region the general public suffers and in fact the whole country suffers as well as the employer and the employe.

"Society demands that strike disputes should be settled promptly and effectively. The right of the public, the right of society, is greater than the right of the participants on both sides in any strike. We must recognize strikes as they have been, are and will continue to be and deal with them for the public good.

"I believe that a law could be drawn from this standpoint that would settle disputes between employer and employe speedily and effectively without strikes, but whether Legislatures and parties interested would agree with me is another thing."

Death of A. C. Kelley.

A. C. Kelley died at his home at Fillmore Wednesday after an extended illness with typhoid fever. The deceased was aged about 41 years and is survived by four small children, his wife having preceded him to the grave about two years ago; he is also survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Kelley, five brothers and three sisters. At the time of his death he was postmaster at Fillmore and proprietor of the general store. He was a conscientious member of the Methodist church.

The funeral took place Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, interment in Meyer's cemetery.

Not Doomed for Life.

"I was treated for three years by good doctors, writes W. A. Greer, McConnellsville, O., "for piles and fistula, but when all failed Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me in two weeks. Cures burns, bruises, cuts, corns, sores, eruptions, salt rheum, piles or no pay. 25c at Green's Pharmacy.

A FISHERMAN'S LUNCH.

How the True Angler Broils Trout For His Noonday Meal.

In the deep shade of the tree the baskets are laid, and now a fire is started nearby, one of Van Dyke's little "friendship fires," which shall also cook a few trout. "Get two flat stones, friend—and they'll be hard to find in this bowlder country, but they are sometimes worn quite flat—while I gather some sufficient wood." Into the fire the stones go, and the wood is heaped about them. Soon the intense glow of live wood embers indicates that the time has come.

The trout, a sliver of bacon in each, are placed on one stone, first well dusted of its ashes, and the other stone is laid upon them. Now the hot embers are raked about and over the stones, and the lunch is spread on the big rock near the spring.

O ye epicures, who think nothing good unless served by a Delmonico or a Sherry, go ye into the mountains, follow a brook for half a day, get wet and tired and hungry, sit down by an ice cold spring and eat brook trout cooked on the spot and delicious bread and butter liberally spread with clover honey. Not till then have ye dined.—"Trout and Philosophy on a Vermont Stream" in Outing.

Zeal and Knowledge.

The Outlook crowds an unusual amount of practical wisdom and good sense into the following paragraph: "Zeal without knowledge, often condemned, is more valuable than knowledge without zeal, often commended, for zeal without knowledge inspires life, and life acquires knowledge; but knowledge without zeal sits in its study, plays with its books and does nothing. All the greatest things in life have been accomplished by enthusiasts whose zeal was greater than their knowledge."

One of O'Connell's "Bulls."

Some extremely amusing mistakes have been made by even the most practiced speakers in their desire to carry their audience with them. O'Connell once in an election speech in Conciliation hall told his followers that if measures injurious to Ireland were brought into parliament he would go over to England and "die on the floor of the house of commons in opposition to them," and when he came back he would say, "Are you for repeal now?" —London Standard.

Our Public Schools.

The "Centre Democrat" has it in for the Bellefonte School Board, and has on two or three occasions insinuated that they are not performing their duties to the public, as they should.

We have no defense to make as they are fully competent to take care of themselves, but we think it is hardly fair on the eve of the Fall term to try in any manner to prejudice the people or scholars against the Directors and Teachers. We believe every Director on the Board realizes his responsibility, and will try to discharge his duty faithfully, and as for the teachers there is no question as to their ability. Most of them have been tried and rendered satisfactory service, and the new ones come to us with the highest recommendation.

Now, Brother Kurtz, give them a chance and if they do not come up to the full requirements we will be with you in the endeavor to have their places filled with the best instructors to be secured.

A New Enterprise.

D. T. Allison has on his mountain tract close to Howard borough a brown stone quarry which has been opened a short time. A business man from the east was here this week and made a thorough examination of it and pronounced it as the site for one of the best brown stone quarries in the state, and that the stone is of the finest quality. Prospects are that before long the quarry will be opened and a goodly number of men employed. Our citizens should do all in their power to make this enterprise a success.—Howard Hustler.

A Boy's Wild Ride for Life.

With family around expecting him to die, and a son riding for life, 18 miles, to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, W. H. Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured death's agonies from asthma, but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvelous cures of consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis, coughs, colds and grip prove its matchless merit for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Green's Pharmacy.

To Build New Shops.

The Penrsy has completed plans for the practical reconstruction of the Juniata locomotive shops east of Altoona, which will mean an increase in their capacity of something like fifty per cent. All of the departments of the plant are being added to, and by the beginning of the coming year at least five hundred men will find employment with the present force.

A HARD HEADED FARMER.

The Way He Held Up a Prince With a Pitchfork.

When Edward VII. of England was an undergraduate at Oxford university, he had an adventure which led a newspaper of that time to describe the prince as a prisoner. It said that "not very far from Oxford, at a place called Steeple Barton, there was a farmer named Hedges, a man of much independence of character, commonly known as 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges.'

"On one occasion the prince and his friends were out with the South Oxfordshire hounds, but, meeting with indifferent sport, they resolved on riding home across country. This they did, galloping over the lands of Farmer Hedges and presently riding into his farmyard. There they were confronted by the farmer himself, armed with a fork. He closed the gates and informed the party bluntly that they had been trespassing on his ground and trampling on his young wheat and that he would not allow one of them to leave his farmyard until he had paid a fine of a sovereign for the damage done.

"They whispered that the prince himself was of the party. 'Prince or no prince,' he replied shortly, 'I'll have my money.' There was little glory to be had by fighting a resolute farmer armed with a fork. They therefore made up their minds to pay, prince and all. When he had the money in his pocket, and not till then, 'Lord Chief Justice Hedges' opened the gates and let them go."—Philadelphia Times.

He Was Dead.

The English papers tell this story of an incident in a revision court:

A certain person who figured on the register was objected to by one of the agents on the ground that he was dead. The revising barrister declined to accept the assurance, however, and demanded conclusive testimony on the point.

Thereupon the agent of the other side rose and gave corroborative evidence as to the decease of the gentleman in question.

"And pray, sir, how do you know the man's dead?" demanded the barrister.

"Well," was the reply, "I don't know. It's very difficult to prove."

"As I suspected," returned the irate barrister. "You don't know whether he's dead or not."

The barrister glanced triumphantly around the court. His expression gradually underwent a change as the witness coolly continued:

"I was saying, sir, that I don't know whether he is dead or not, but I do know this—they buried him about a month ago on suspicion."

Donkeys In Mexico.

There are two classes of donkeys in Mexico—one with four feet and the other with two. Each is a kind of competitor of the other. Sometimes they are partners. They are both bearers of burdens and the subjects of brutality. Everywhere you see the donkey loaded down with sacks of ore, baskets of dirt, cans of milk, sacks of water, and you find his driver very often loaded in the same way. These combinations sometimes go two by two, and sometimes there will be a band of ten to fifty thus loaded, coming down the mountains with ore, charcoal or wood, corn or whatever may be needed in the villages or cities. It is indeed a mediæval life in middle and southern Mexico.

The Way of the Frontier.

The way of civilization in a new land passes comprehension. Its motto seems to be "Ruin first; there is time afterward to save." Civilization is a good deal like a wild, full blooded boy—it must first sow wild oats, waste its patrimony, disgrace its antecedents; then it is ready to begin the serious work of life. That has been the history of the range country—swift ruin for thirty or forty years, with a resulting wreck that it will require a century of hard work, perseverance and self control to save.—Ray Stannard Baker in Century.

Siamese Tobacco.

The best tobacco in Siam is grown at Petchabun. It is planted in open fields near the town after the floods in September or October, and the first crop, or tips, which is considered the best quality, is gathered about February and the last about the beginning of May. The very best quality cannot be purchased, as it is reserved for the special use of the king and sent down to Bangkok, where it is smoked in the palace and distributed to the chief officers of state.

Cemetery Monuments.

What is more sadly comic or incongruous than the imposing medley of stone and marble in a great cemetery? The towering columns loom over the resting places of such small citizens. The "dove of peace" alights where it would never have brooded of its free will. The guardian angel bends over the vixen's fomb, while mediocre bits of slate denote the graves of many saintly and gifted pilgrims.—Atlantic.

Fans In Shakespeare's Time.

Fans in Shakespeare's time seem to have been composed of ostrich and other feathers fastened to handles. Gentlemen carried fans in those days, and in one of the later figures of the german they now carry fans. According to an old manuscript in the Ashmolean museum, Sir Edward Cole rode the circuit with a prodigous fan, which had a long stick, with which he corrected his daughters.

It is a pity the baldheaded man can't transplant the unnecessary beard on his chin to the smooth spot on his pate. —St. Louis Star.

Rheumatism

What is the use of telling the rheumatic that he feels as if his joints were being dislocated?

He knows that his sufferings are very much like the tortures of the rack.

What he wants to know is what will permanently cure his disease.

That, according to thousands of grateful testimonials, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It promptly neutralizes the acid in the blood on which the disease depends, completely eliminates it, and strengthens the system against its return. Try Hood's.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Game chickens have more meat in proportion to their height than any other breed of fowls.

When the chickens are growing fast, it is a good plan to mix a little bonemeal in their soft feed.

Smearing whole wheat with kerosene or turpentine and feeding it to the chickens is a good remedy for gapes.

Adding some carbolic acid and putting on hot will secure much better results from the whitewashing of the poultry house.

While it is at no time advisable to keep food of any kind before the fowls all the time, it will be an advantage to keep milk where they can drink all they want.

Fowls do not run together in large numbers. They will always divide into flocks of small size and will select different feeding grounds, always provided they have the opportunity.

A growing chicken, like a growing animal, requires plenty of good, wholesome food supplied liberally and often in order to enable them to grow and mature rapidly and to develop properly.

There Was a Limit.

"I am glad they moved away," remarked the good housewife, speaking of a family of borrowing neighbors who had just left the neighborhood. "I was willing to lend them a loaf of bread occasionally or half a dozen eggs or the washboard or the lemon squeezer, but when they got down to sending the little girl over to borrow pennies to give the organ grinder I began to think it was nearly time to draw the line; and, to cap the climax, one day they actually asked me to come over and take care of the baby while they went out to do the shopping!"

A Useful Rhyme.

If poisoned, take mustard or salt, tablespoon,
In a cup of warm water and swallow right soon.
For burns try borax and a wet bandage, too;
If blistered, then oil and dry flannel will do.
For children's convulsions warm baths are the rule;
With castor oil dose, too, but keep the head cool.
Give syrup of ipecac when croup is in store;
For fainting stretch patient right out on the floor.
To soak in hot water is best for a sprain;
Remember these rules, and 'twill save you much pain.

Discerning Germs.

"What is this stuff?" asked the testy husband, sputtering over a mouthful of the strange dish which he finds on the breakfast table.

"That," answers the thoughtful wife, "is the new health food."

"It ought to be healthy," declares the husband. "I'll bet no germ of any sense would try to live on it!"—Baltimore American.

Very Close.

"I was surprised to hear you speaking against Flyntskyn. You told me some time ago he was your nearest friend."

"That's so. He couldn't be any nearer than he is, the stingy old beggar!"

The Sense of Touch.

The sense of touch in man is most highly developed on the skin, but mucous or serous surfaces are also capable of conveying impressions. Some parts of the body are more sensitive than others and are usually devoid of hairs, as the tip of the tongue, the ends of the fingers and the lips. It will be noticed that these are so situated as to keep us conveniently informed of what is going on around us. —Chambers' Journal.

If a woman is good and old fashioned, she has an uneasy feeling when inside of any house unless she has an apron on.—Atchison Globe.

Bronx river, New York, derives its name from Jonis Bronx, who settled in that region in 1639.

WHERE PAIN MOST HURTS.

Extreme Sensitiveness of the Fifth and Dental Nerves.

Which part of the human body is the most sensitive to pain?

A sharp definition must be drawn here between irritation and pain. Irritation is not pain, but only a frequent cause of it. Thus, a crumb lodged in the larynx near the vocal cords produced violent irritation and prolonged coughing, which often results in actual pain. So, too, a fly or speck of dust in the eye sets up violent irritation and inflammation, followed by acute pain. Of the surface of the body, the finger tips and the end of the tongue are most sensitive. For instance, a burn on the fingers is much more painful than one on the back would be, while one on the tongue would be more painful still.

Deep wounds are not painful, as a rule, save as regards the surface injury. Of pains not caused by external injuries, neuralgia of the fifth nerve, the one which supplies the skin of the head and face, is the most intense. It has frequently driven people mad for the time being, and sufferers have been known to cut and even burn the flesh in desperate attempts to relieve it. The rupture of the branches of the dental nerve in tooth drawing also causes agony so intense that it has been stated that no human being could endure it for more than two seconds at a time.—Pearson's Weekly.

Trading on the Niger.

A recent traveler on the Niger writes: "I was anxious to buy some fruit from a native woman who came down to the ship, and to this end I produced a handful of coppers which I had brought out from England. I first showed her five, then six, seven and eight, but she pushed them all aside in a most unceremonious manner. More by way of a joke than anything else, I then produced a three penny piece, which she at once accepted, giving me in return just twice as much as I had asked for my eight coppers. I also discovered that she had a great partiality for white glass bottles. I happened to have about half a dozen empty soda water bottles, for which she gave me the same number of eggs. I afterward found that any white glass bottle had this purchasing power all over Nigeria. The natives send them to Bida, where they are melted and made into rings about three or four inches in diameter, to be worn either as armlets or anklets."

The Bark of a Dog.

Strangely enough, barking, which seems to us so characteristic of the dog, is not one of its natural sounds at all. No wild dogs bark, and, what is more remarkable, if dogs are isolated for a long time from their human masters they seem to lose the faculty. Thus a number of dogs turned loose on Juan Fernandez island were found in thirty-three years to have completely lost the habit, but to be able to reacquire it. On the other hand, wolf puppies, as well as young wild dogs, if reared among tame ones, readily learn to bark. It almost seems as if the sound were differentiated from the howling and yelping natural to the wild canidæ in order to communicate with man and serve his purpose. It is worth observing that the habit can be eliminated when desired, as in some breeds of dogs favored by poachers.

Historic Trees.

Litchfield, Conn., has more historic trees than any other town in New England. Among others are two elms planted by John C. Calhoun, a sycamore said to be one of the thirteen planted by Oliver Wolcott, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and named after the thirteen original colonies; an elm which served as a whipping post in colonial days, and a willow tree which grew from a walking stick stuck in the ground by Colonel Talmadge, the American officer who captured Major Andre, the British spy.

Editorial Room Wit.

The reporter had just come in from a murder case. It was a rainy day, and he had to cross a plowed field on foot.

"I see," observed the chief editor, looking with much displeasure at his large and muddy boots, "you have brought the scene of the murder with you."

"Yes," answered the reporter apologetically; "I've got to have some ground for my story, you know."—London Express.

Discounting It.

He—Here's a story of a surgeon who amputated his own thumb. Wonderful, isn't it?

She—Oh, I don't know.

He—What! Just think of his nerve and the awful pain he must have suffered.

She—But no doubt he put himself under the influence of ether first.—Philadelphia Press.

Cucumber For Soap.

Have you ever tried a slice of cucumber instead of soap when washing your face? It does just as well, and the juice is excellent for the skin. Or a very good plan is to wash your face and, after drying, rub the cucumber over and let the juice dry in. If the stem end of the cucumber is kept standing in water, it will keep fresh for days.

Ironing Lace.

When ironing lace, always lay a piece of soft muslin over very fine lace and never touch it directly with the iron. Crochet, tatting, guipure and Irish or Greek lace should not be ironed, but simply pinned out on a well covered board, point by point, and left till dry, pulling it out gently with the fingers if it seems stiff when unpinned.

PLACEBO PRESCRIPTIONS.

An Old Doctor Tells a Secret of His Profession.

"Never tell a patient that there is nothing the matter with him," said the old doctor, who was revealing the secrets of his profession. "If you do, you make a lifelong enemy and lose your patient, who sends for another doctor. Give him something, if it is only flavored water. If the disease is only imaginary, cure the imagination with a harmless dose, and your patient gets well. In the profession we call such prescriptions 'placebos,' and more wonderful cures are effected by placebos than the world wots of. So, also, when you run across a patient who announces the first thing that he cannot take certain sorts of medicine, don't tell him he must. Agree with him and give him the medicine, if he needs it, in a disguised form.

"There are thousands of people who labor under the conviction that they cannot take quinine and will tell you that they have never taken it in their lives, while at the same time they may be taking large doses of it. The taste of quinine is hard to disguise, but if administered in a pill the patient can be made to take it and never suspect what he has swallowed. The trouble is the patient is apt to recognize a quinine pill by its appearance, to suspect, bite into the pill and thus discover your ruse. To obviate this difficulty druggists now have pills of quinine made in odd shapes and colors. Pink pills, containing nothing but quinine and a little harmless coloring matter, are a favorite form for use in cases where an antiquinine crank has to be medicated. In giving a placebo it is not wise to have it taste too well. The patient is apt to suspect if you do. And be sure that you gravely impress upon the patient that only a teaspoonful is to be taken at a time and that at stated intervals. The whole virtue of a placebo exists in the solemnity and importance with which you surround it."—New York Press.

FLOWER AND TREE.

Salpiglossis is a pretty, showy annual, easy to raise and worthy a place in the garden.

The birch grows farther north than any other tree. Next comes the Siberian larch and then the fir.

The dark spot in the center of a bean blossom is the nearest approach to black that occurs in any flower.

Sunflowers may be transplanted quite easily if the work is done on a rainy day or in the cool of the evening.

Preserve a green lawn in the center of the garden, however small. This is needed to set off the flowers and for purposes of relief.

The Word "Awful."

In Mrs. Oliphant's "Life of Principal Tulloch" of St. Andrews we find Dr Tulloch speaking of some one as "an awful Tory." Mrs. Oliphant says in a footnote:

"Lest the principal should be accused of slang, I may say that the adjective is strictly Scotch and had been employed for generations by a people fond of strong speaking before it crossed the border and gave to the youth of England a freshly energetic if inelegant word."

Nothing Wasted.

A Scottish farmer when going to market, it was observed, always took a hen with him in his trap. The reason was never known until one day he took a friend with him on a drive. Every place the farmer stopped he put the nosebag on his horse, and then the hen was so trained that what dropped from the horse's bag the hen would pick up, so there was nothing wasted.—Pearson's Weekly.

MESSENGER GIRLS POPULAR.

Telegraph Boys to Disappear From Western Union's Chicago Office.

Chicago, Sept. 6. The familiar messenger boy, so long identified with telegrams, is about to disappear, so far as the branch of the Western Union Company here is concerned.

This has been finally decided by the local officers of the company having the matter in charge. The latest strike of the boys, the third disturbance in a month, forced the American District Telegraph Company, which supplies the messengers for the Western Union, to hire 400 girls to take the strikers' places, and after a trial of nearly a week it is declared that their services are satisfactory.

The girls are working in the business district and the residence portions of the city during the day. The night force is made up of young men, not boys.

Fire in Boggs Township.

Fire Friday night destroyed the dwelling house on a farm belonging to Frank S. Rhoads in Boggs township. It was occupied by Orvis Fetzer who lost all his household goods. The fire was caused by the explosion of a coal oil lamp. Just as the family was about ready to retire and but for the presence of the male members of the household all the out buildings would have been destroyed fortunately however the flames were confined to the house which alone was burned. Mr. Fetzer carried an insurance of $750.00 which will reimburse him for his loss. We have not learned what insurance. Mr. Rhoads carried on the house.

Will Make Money for Chinese.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—The state department recently received a communication from the Chinese Government stating in effect that it was proposed to start up the Government coinage mint at Tientsin, and asking that an assayer and a machinist from one of the mints of the United States be recommended for employment therein. The matter was referred to Mr. Roberts, the director of the mint, with the result that Leonard McGruder, assistant assayer, and Mr. L. G. Emory, superintendent of machinery, both from New Orleans' mint have been engaged for this service and are expected to sail for China within a short time.

—While boasting of clean streets will some one in authority please go on a tour of inspection to East Lamb street. The walks on the north side of that thoroughfare are simply piles of lumber or brick as the case may be and have been so for a year past, having been repaired in only one place in all that time. The writer of this usually devotes from 10 to 15 minutes extra every time he passes along the street in replacing the displaced boards or bricks so that there will be less danger that he or the next passer-by will fall and receive bruises or breaks to face or limbs. These walks (?) border on properties owned by wealthy individuals and there is no reasons why they should not be kept in order.

Wants the U. S. Senate Abolished.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. Sept. 6.—the Social Democratic party in the state convention here adopted a platform reaffirming its allegiance to the principles of internal socialism. The platform demands, among other things, a law granting wage-workers over 60 years of age, who have earned less than $10,000 a year and have been citizens of the United States not less than 16 years, a pension of $12 a month for the remainder of life; also that the United States Senate be abolished.

Against Bullet-Proof Cloth.

The United States Army ordnance officers, after an exhaustive test, have reported against the adoption of bullet proof cloth shields. The test showed that, weight for weight, the shields were not as resistant as steel plate, while they were of double weight when wet.

—A mortgage for $10,000,000, made by the Bethlehem Steel Company of Pennsylvania, was filed with the County Register of Hudson County, N. J. It is in favor of the Colonial Trust Company, of New York, and is to secure an issue of $10,000,000 of twenty-year 5 per cent gold bonds.

The Excellence of Speer's Wine.

Is attested by physicians throughout America and Europe who have used them. Orders for the old Port and Burgundy are being shipped to Dresden and Vienna.

—The Baptist congregation at Eagleville are making extensive repairs to their cosy little church at that place. A new steeple is being erected and the interior is being re-papered and re-painted.

—At a session of the convention of the Patriotic Sons of America held in Williamsport last week, the body pledged itself to do what it could to enforce compulsory education.

—The Susquehanna University, at Selinsgrove, is to have a gymnasium to cost not less than $6,000. Ground was broken for the new building last week.

—Here is one true fish story at least. A Georgia editor declares that it cost him six months' rheumatism to catch a six-inch fish.

As to the cause of their ill health. If they would start to treat their kidneys with Foley's Kidney Cure, the weariness of body and mine, backache and rheumatic pains would disappear.—C. M. Parrish.

No Relief for 20 Years.

"I had bronchitis for twenty years," said Mrs. Minerva Smith of Danville, Ill, "and at times have been bedfast. I never got relief until I had taken Foley's Honey and Tar. It is pleasant and gives quick relief, and is a sure cure for throat and lung diseases." Take nothing else. C. M. Parrish.

Beware of the Knife.

No profession has advanced more rapidly of late than surgery, but it should not be used except where absolutely necessary. In cases of piles for example, it is seldom needed. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures quickly and permanently. Unequalled for cuts, burns, bruises, wounds, skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. C. Philips, Paris, Ill. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." Soothes and heals. # Kodol Digests what you Eat

Dyspepsia Cure

People once thought that the only way to cure indigestion was to stop eating. The trouble with such treatment is, that to stop eating is to stop living. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE has changed the whole method of treating this complaint. It contains all the natural digestive fluids and digests all you eat without aid from the stomach, so you can eat all the good food you want and be cured of your trouble at the same time.

"I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for several years and often sat down to eat but had to give it up after eating only two bites. I used two bottles of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and am alright to-day. Can now eat anything I want. W. L. Easton, Audubon, Iowa."

It can't help but do you good

Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1. bottle contains 2½ times the 50c. size.

When you suffer from biliousness or constipation, use the famous little liver pills known as DeWitt's Little EARLY RISERS. They never gripe.

I can examine your eyes at your home, by appointment, without extra charge.

If you need me at your home drop me a line in care of Garman Honse.

Hundreds are going blind daily, from the need of the proper prescribed glasses and from delaying attention to the eyes from time to time. Nothing will destroy your eyesight quicker than cheap glasses or glasses not properly fitted to your eyes.

Prof. Angel, in the short time he has been visiting this section, has met with marked success. Scores of leading citizens of this community have found relief from his treatment. It is not necessary to travel to Eastern cities for treatment when you can consult an eminent oculist at home.

JOHN O. MILLER

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

—Mrs. Kate Welch of Axe Mann who has been very ill lately is getting along fine.

—The Central Supply Co., are negotiating for the purchase of Mr. Baisors store at Scotia, and expect to continue it at that place.

—Prof. Burton L. Rockwood organized a division of the Sons of Temperance at Milesburg Wednesday evening. The meeting took place in the Baptist church.

—John Thompson, of Salona has purchased of William Boyer five tracts of land in Green township, Clinton county, containing 2,000 acres of land. These tracts were known as the Kemerer lands. The sale was closed Saturday.

—While the yard engine and crew were doing some shifting about the yard Monday two freight cars jumped the track which necessitated the bringing of the wreck train from Tyrone to replace them.

—John Ardell, Jr., is making some extensive repairs and improvements to his office at the Phoenix Planing Mill. When completed he will have a convenient and cozy place in which to transact business.

—The Centre County Mutual Fire Insurance Company P. of H. at their monthly meeting on the 5th inst. laid a three per cent assessment which amounts to $1.50 on every thousand dollars insurance held during the last fourteen month.

—The Reformed Congregation is beautifying the inside of their handsome church building by having it frescoed and thoroughly renovated. While the work is in progress, services are being held in the Hall of the W. C. T. U. building on High street.

—Workmen are busily engaged under the Superintendency of Thomas Shaughnessy, laying brick crossings at the Centre County Bank and Methodist church. These improvements were badly needed, and we are glad the Council has directed them to be made.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church will hold a sociable this evening in the Chapel Building, the event being the Centennial Celebration of the Church, and to which everyone is cordially invited. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

—Platt, Barber & Co., of Philipsburg, have established a branch of their wholesale grocery at this place. It is located in the Hale building next to the P. R. R. station. Fred Musser is in charge. They occupy the long ware room in the rear of the Central Supply Company's store.

—"George Pat" the beautiful little curly haired boy of Mr. and Mrs. George Garis was badly hurt Tuesday morning by falling off a wagon. It is a miracle the little fellow was not killed as the heavy wheels of the wagon cut his cheek and neck in a fearful manner, two of his fingers were smashed.

—On Saturday one of the employees named Joseph Spadock at the American Lime and Stone Company's quarry up Buffalo Run was so unfortunate as to receive a compound fracture of the leg by a large stone striking that member. He was removed to the Bellefonte Hospital, where he is receiving the best of care and attention.

—There are rumors on the street to the effect that the Scale Works are to be removed from Bellefonte. We sincerely trust there is no foundation for the report they are of to much value to our town to have them taken away if possible to prevent it. We have been unable to ascertain definite information on the subject. When we do will inform our readers.

—We have been informed that the Water Committee has made a contract with a firm in Hanover, Penn. for a new pump and wheel, for the water works. As soon as we learn the price and other particulars connected with it, we will inform our readers. We hope the Borough Solicitor will be consulted before a contract is entered into, which binds the Borough for the payment of the bill.

—Bellefonte Encampment No. 72, I. O. O. F. held their election of officers Monday night for the ensuing term, which resulted as follows: C. P., W. P. Kuhn H. P., Jno. L. Knisely; S. W., M. L. Mr. Moore has accepted an excellent position with John Wanamaker and will move his family to Philadelphia leaving here next Saturday. We are sorry to have Mr. Moore leave our town he has been a citizen here for many years, and one of our most reliable business men, having the confidence and respect of every one who has had business relations with him. We wish him nothing but success, and an abundance of that in his new undertaking.

THE SOLDIERS RE-UNION.

Annual Picnic of the Centre County Veteran Association.

The annual picnic and re-union of the Centre County Veteran's Association was held at Hecla Park last Saturday, September 6th and proved a most delightful occasion. The day was an ideal one, fair and cool and just the kind to make a days outing in the woods pleasurable. The crowd though a large one was not up to former years. The ranks of the old soldiers are fast thinning out, many familiar faces were missing, they having gone to answer the final roll call on high an join the great majority.

The State College band was present all day and enlivened the occasion with inspiring music. This is one of the best musical organizations in Centre County and deserve great credit for their skillful playing.

At 11 o'clock the Association held a meeting in the pavilion at which Gen. James A Beaver, the president, presided. Committees on officers and place of meeting for next year were appointed after which they adjourned for dinner.

The committee on place of meeting were the following: W. H. Fry, chairman, J. R. Pheasant, A. V. Miller, S. H. Orris, David Burrel.

Committee on nominations, D. F. Fortney, chairman, James McMullen, Thomas Donachy, Hiram Thompson, J. W. Sunday.

The Association met in the afternoon and the first thing in order was the report of Chairman Fry of the committee on place of meeting for next year. They recommended Pine Grove Mills which was finally selected the date being left to the executive committee to settle.

D. F. Fortney Esq., of the committtee on nominations then reported and pursuant to their instructions the following officers were elected for 1903.

President—James A. Beaver.

Vice-Presidents—Capt. W. H. Fry and W. C. Pattison.

Treasurer—Capt. Geo. M. Boal.

Secretary—W. H. Musser.

Assistant Secretary—Samuel B. Miller.

Following this the meeting was turned into a camp fire. D. F. Fortney repeated a poem composed by one of the round heads known as the 100th P. V. Eloquent addresses were made by Gen. Beaver, Dr. H. C. Holloway, of Bellefonte; Comrade Holloway, president of the Clinton County Association; Dr. Wilford P. Shriner, of Bellefonte, Capt. G. T. Michaels, of Lock Haven; Hon. John Hamilton, of State College, who represents cavalry branch: Judge John G. Love of Bellefonte.

After the speaking the soldiers formed a group on the banks of the lake and had their pictures taken by photographer Bergstresser.

During the afternoon there was an interesting base ball game between State College and Howard which resulted in a victory for Howard by the score of 10 to 2.

Bellefonte Hospital Needs.

Although this institution has not been formerly opened, it is being used for emergency cases, and the physicians in town are laboring under a great disadvantage for the want of necessary supplies.

We have been requested to ask our citizens for donations consisting of sheets for single beds, pillow cases, towels, napkins, tray covers, old linen, new muslin, cheese cloth, night shirts, night gowns, dishes, knives, forks, spoons, blankets, bed spreads, and granite cooking utensils for immediate use.

This hospital belongs to the town, and should receive the support and encouragement of our people, and we trust liberal contributions of the above named articles will be speedily furnished by those who can do so.

It is proposed to inaugurate a Woman's Auxiliary as soon as possible to see that supplies of this kind are provided, but until that is done, it must depend upon the charity of those disposed to aid this worthy object.

The Reservoir.

The work on the repairs and improvements to the Reservoir are progressing most awfully slow and from present indications it will be a long time before they are completed.

It is a shame to ask our people to drink the water from that receptacle and there would be less used if our citizens would take a look and see the brick, mortar and debris lying at the bottom of the Reservoir.

To see the job one would suppose no one had charge of it and would not for a moment suppose it was the source of supply for the drinking water furnished our citizens, and still at the next meeting the council will be satisfied with the report of the Water committee which will be that every thing in their department is in good condition.

We are certainly a long suffering people to submit to the outrageous conduct of that committee.

UNCLAIMED LETTER LIST.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte Post Office uncalled for Sept. 8, 1902:

BELLEFONTE PRESBYTERIAN CENTENIAL.

The historical sermon delivered in the Presbyteriau church yesterday morning by the pastor, Rev. William Laurie, D. D. was intensely interesting, and was listened to by a large congregation, it being a collation of facts and figures, extending back for one hundred years, and for the first time the members of the church heard anything concerning presbyterianism in our town, in its early days.

Dr. Laurie labored under a great disadvantage in preparing this discourse, owing to so few records having been kept in the beginning of the organization, but after laborious research and inquiry, he succeeded in gathering a great amount of valuable and interesting information.

The church at this place was instituted in 1802, Rev. Henry R. Wilson being the first pastor, who was installed in 1803, and served as pastor for seven years, when he was succeeded by Rev. James Linn. The salary received by Mr. Wilson was $400 per year. When Mr. Linn was called the salary was increased to $500, and besides preaching in Bellefonte his field was extended from Julian to Jacksonville, or a distance of about 26 miles.

He continued serving the several churches until 1839, when Bellefonte secured his entire time and service. He remained as the minister in charge until 1868, when he closed his earthly career, after a pastorate of 58 years, his age at the time of his death being 85 years. The honorable degree of D. D. was conferred upon him by Princeton College. We have not space to speak of the ministry of Mr. Linn among our people. Can only say that he was one of the most faithful, earnest and beloved men who ever ministered to the spiritual wants of any people.

Owing to the infirmities incident to age the congregation in 1860 relieved him of a portion of his labor by calling, as co-pastor, Rev. Joseph H. Barnard, who remained for six years, resigning to accept another call. He was succeeded by Rev. Alfred Yoemans, who occupied the position of co-pastor at the time of Dr. Linn's death. He remained for a short time as minister in charge, when he also accepted a call from a church in New Jersey.

In 1869 a call was made to Rev. W. P. Wiley, D. D. who remained until 1876, when Rev. William Laurie the present pastor succeeded him and has ever since remained, and his ministry is acceptable, and appreciated by his large congregation. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon Dr. Laurie in 1886, and that of Doctor of Laws in 1898.

The first church building was erected upon the same site as the present commodious structure in 1819, at a cost of $2000. In 1840 this building was torn down and a new one erected at a cost of $8000; this building proving inadaquate to accommodate the increased number of members was also torn down, and the present church home was built in 1868 at a cost of $35,000. The chapel building, adjoining the church, was built in 1883 at a cost of $17,000 The congregation also own a handsome parsonage, which cost between $7000 and $8000 and not one dollar of debt is owed to any one.

Since the organization of this church it has been the parent of five presbyterian churches which are in existence and in prosperous condition; viz: Moshannon, Bald Eagle, Milesburg, Buffalo Run, and Winburne.

The membership of the church today is four hundred, with a large Sabbath School, Christian Endeavor Society and various Missionary Societies.

The amount of money contributed during the first fifty years for the several Boards, Congregational and Miscellaneous expenses, as far as could be ascertained amounted to $13,000. During the next twenty-five years the amount contributed was $121,612. and in the last twenty-five years the contributions reached the sum of $181,875, which shows that in a quiet way the Presbyterian church of our town has not been standing still.

The W. C. T. U. at Milesburg.

The members of our W. C. T. U. held a meeting Sunday afternoon in the Baptist Church at Milesburg. A large delegation from Bellefonte having drove down, and the citizens of Milesburg turned out in such numbers, as to completely fill the church. The exercises were of an interesting character, addresses being made by Rev. Houck, pastor of the church, Mr. Rockford, temperance evangelist and Miss Ella Levy. The music which was particularly fine being furnished by a large choir under the direction of Mr. L. T. Eddy. Mrs. Thomas R. Hayes sang a solo and Mrs. J. C. Meyer and Mrs. Hayes sang a duet. There was also an appropriate recitation by Miss Jones from Milesburg. The meeting was thoroughly enjoyed by every one present.

—Ralph and Willis Struble, sons of Edward Struble, were quite seriously injured Tuesday afternoon while on there way to school. A heavy bill board which stood in front of the Adams Express office blew down during the wind and rain storm that prevailed, and as the little fellows were passing just at that time it struck them both inflicting quite serious injuries. They were taken to Green's drug store where their injuries were treated after which they were conveyed to their home.

THE SCHENCK REUNION.

Third Annual Gathering of the Schenck, Holter and Pletcher Families.

The third annual re-union of the Schenck family was held in Schenck's grove below Howard Thursday and proved a most successful affair. The attendance was quite large, there being about one thousand of Schenck's, Holter's and Pletcher's present and about five hundred others that were not related. The day is looked upon as one when friend will meet with friend and a holiday for one of the pioneers of Howard township. The weather in the morning was threatening but as the day advanced it cleared up although there was a high wind blowing and the air was cool and pleasant.

The Schenckville and Howard Junior base ball teams played an interesting game of base ball in the forenoon which resulted in favor of Schenckville by the score of 16 to 10.

In the afternoon there were two games of base ball, the first one being between the Beech Creek Athletics and the Schenckville boys the score resulting 20 to 3 in favor of Beech Creek. After this Schenckville and a picked up nine played Schenckville winning by the score of 14 to 4.

The noon hour was indeed an inviting one, for scattered all through the pleasant grove could be seen little parties enjoying a dinner in the woods. There was no need for anyone to go hungry for the Schenck's, Holter's and Pletcher's are good providers and everyone was made welcome.

In the afternoon interesting exercises were held W. F. Hall gathered up a select choir and rendered some good singing for those who cared to listen. Rev. G. F. Boggs, of the M. E. church Howard; Rev. I. N. Bair, of the Evangelical Howard church; and Rev. H. C. Frick, of the Disciple church, Eagleville; were present and delivered addresses, extolling the excellent qualities of the Schenck family. They spoke however under difficulties as the wind was ahead of them and it was hard to hear what they had to say.

In the morning there was a meeting of the Schenck Family Reunion Association at which the following officers were elected for a term of four years.

D. B. Schenck, president.

Shuman Pletcher, vice-president.

Theophilus Pletcher, 2nd vice-president.

John F. Schenck, treasurer.

Hayes Schenck, corresponding secretary.

W. F. Hall, F. M. Pletcher, W. R. Schenck, John Schenck, Ed. Bechdel,—Executive committee.

Many of the picnicers took supper on the grounds returning home early in the evening. Robb and Thompson's hacks conveyed the people to and from the grounds for the trifling sum of ten cents.

The writer is greatly indebted to Miss Maude Hopkins and the Holter family for a most enjoyable dinner in the woods and to Postmaster Hayes Schenck and his most estimable wife for their kind hospitality in entertaining the writer over night.

Sons of Temperance Organized Fountain Springs Division No. 214.

Nearly every available seat was taken at the temperance rally in the U. B. church Monday night.

The Prohibition Quartette of Bellefonte rendered some very fine selections and the address of Prof. Rockwood was listened to very attentively by the audience.

The address was entitled Betty, John and the Baby and the speaker had his audience in laughter and tears throughout the evening. The quartette sang Betty and the Baby at the close of the address.

The division to be known as Fountain Springs No. 214 starts off with a membership of forty two representing every church in Bellefonte and others who are not church members.

The officers elected and installed are:

Worthy Patriarch—C. C. Shuey.
